West Town Branch Begins Operation

Bank Opening Scenes

—Photos by Stewart

FIRST CUSTOMER TO USE THE DRIVE-IN service at the new West Town Branch of the National City Bank of Marion was Wilbur Shover of Shover Radio and Television Service, pictured above at the wheel of his car. Dale Schmict, bank auditor, is at the drive-in window while Mrs. Evelyn Dane of the Marion Cycle Shop waits her turn. The bank was open for inspection during the West Towne Jubilee Monday and Tuesday and began operation Wednesday.

RALPH Q. WHITE, manager of the West Town Branch Bank, is pictured at his desk talking with L. R. Lane of the Lane Supply Co., first depositor in the West Center street bank. The branch, second opened by National City, brings drive-in banking service to Marion for the first time. The bank opening was timed to coincide with the West Towne Jubilee.

Boy Scout Pilgrimage Set Sunday

Approximately 400 Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts of the Marion area, in addition to the Harding and Bucyrus high school bands, will take part in the 20th annual pilgrimage to the Harding Memorial and the President Harding Home Sunday afternoon.

The parade will be organized at 2 p.m. at the old Central Junior High School and will begin at 2.30.

The group will march down Main street to the memorial, where a short ceremony, open to the public, will begin at approximately 3 p.m.

Ohioan's Plane Falls Into River, 3 Die

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26—(AP)—A small private plane crashed into the Potomac River today near the National Airport, killing the two men and a woman aboard.

The plane was approaching the field for a landing when it suddenly flipped over and plunged into the water. Crash boats from Bolling Air Force Base, across the river, recovered the bodies.

The victims were not immediately identified. The Civil Aeronautics Administration said the plane was licensed by Thomas H. White, Chagrin Falls, O.

"Sweet Violets" No Longer Sweet

DETROIT, Oct. 26—(AP)—Lyrics of the song "Sweet Violets" have been banned by both WWJ and WWJ-TV, the Detroit News, Harry Bannister, the station's general manager, said today.

Playing of the song on the Wayne King show last night on WWJ-TV resulted in its censorship after the first verse. TV viewers saw instead a printed announcement saying the program was being edited because the station considered certain parts unfit for reception in homes.

Allies Reject Reds' Buffer Zone Bid

Want U.N. Forces To Withdraw As Much as 15 Miles

MUNSAN, Korea, Oct. 26 — (AP) — The Allies today quickly rejected a Communist buffer zone proposal that the U. N. give up such bitterly won Korean areas as Heartbreak Ridge . . . Punchbowl . . . Iron Triangle.

The Reds wanted the United Nations forces to withdraw as much as 15 miles. Their proposal countered yesterday's U N. suggestion for a buffer zone generally along present battle lines.

Maj. Gen. Henry I. Hodes told the Reds their proposal bore 'no relationship to the military line of contact and did not offer truce protections."

No Mention

The Communists made no mention of their previous demands for a demarcation line along the 38th Parallel. Apparently they have abandoned the idea

The Red offer and U N. rejection came at the second meeting of subcommittees trying to agree on a cease-fire line. The meetings are held in Panmunjom.

Under the Red proposal, they would keep Kaesong, former site of truce talks two miles south of the 38th Parallel. They would withdraw from part of Ongjin Peninsula on the west coast, an area the Allies describe as militarily unimportant.

The subcommittees meet again at 11 a.m. Saturday (9 p.m. Friday, E.S.T.).

It appeared the two delegations were entering a period of horse-trading.

Nothing Large-Scale

But the U N. spokesman, Brig Gen. William P. Nuckols, discounted the idea there would be any large-scale bargaining.

"We will not trade territory simply to be trading," Nuckols said, "Military considerations and the security of United Nations troops will be the sole governing factor in any minor refinements or modifications of our specific proposal of yesterday."

He said the Communist offer was the first departure from the hitherto adamant stand (by the Reds) on the 38th Parallel and only the 38th Parallel."

He added that during today's 90 minute session the words "38th Parallel" were uttered only once, and that in passing.

Advance on Ground

U.N. Planes Down 2 MIGS; Yank Cruiser, Destroyer Hit

U. S EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, KOREA, Oct. 26—(AP)—Allied jet pilots today shot down two Russian-made MIGs and damaged three others in the sixth straight day of aerial dog fights over Korea. On the ground U. N. infantrymen advanced in hand to hand combat.

The navy reported a U. S. cruiser and destroyer were hit last week by Red shore fire and one man was killed and six wounded.

The Fifth Air Force said all its jets returned safely from three separate air battles in which 68 Allied planes tangled with 121 MIGs.

All told, U. N. fighters sighted between 150 and 160 jets in MIG alley over northwest Korea and near the North Korean capital of Pyongyang. But some of the Reds fled.

United Nations infantrymen attacked against stiffening resistance northwest of Yonchon in the West and in the area southeast of Kumsong on the central front, an Eighth Army communique said. It was quiet on the eastern front.

Minor Gains

Attacking units threw Communist defenders off high ground in minor gains in both the West and Center.

The two enemy MIGs were shot down in a five minute battle in the Sinanju area Friday afternoon. Twenty-eight F-86 Sabre jets took on 80 MIGs in the scrap that swirled from 38,000 feet down to 2,000.

Sixteen Sabre jets tangled with 25 MIGs for 30 minutes in the day's longest battle. But neither side inflicted any damage, the air force said. The fight covered the air over Sinanju, south to Pyongyang and east to Sonchon.

The Fifth Air Force said its Korean war kill of MIGs now

Ashland Pilot Figures In Korea Rescue

An Ashland, O., pilot today figured in the rescue of a fighter pilot who was shot down twice in an hour and a half, The Associated Press reported from Korea.

Capt. Robert W. Barnhill of Ashland and Major John Dean of Freeport, Ill., manned a helicopter rescued the fighter pilot and the crew of another helicopter which came to the rescue first but was subsequently shot down.

The news dispatch from Korea reported the sequence of events as follows:

The fighter pilot, Lt. Vernon L. Wright of Lubbock, Texas, bailed out of his crippled F-80 jet behind enemy lines yesterday.

A helicopter manned by Lt. Charles J. DuPont, of LaPlace, La., and Cpl. Gerald L. Fryer of Woodland, Calif., picked him up.

The helicopter was shot down shortly after it took off.

None of the men was hurt. They walked six hours through freezing rain to get away from the Communists.

This morning the second helicopter manned by Major Dean, and Capt. Barnhill rescued the men and returned them to friendly lines.

Short of Goal, But "Successful"

Community Chest Drive Ends With $89,567 Pledged

Pledges and contributions amounting to $89,567.88 were reported Thursday night as workers in the 1951 Marion County Red Feather Community Chest Campaign closed their drive at a "Dutch treat" dinner at the Y.M.C.A.

While the goal of $97,764 was not reached, the amount was the largest ever raised in a local Community Chest campaign with the exception of the World War II years when War Chest contributions swelled the total. Last night's unofficial figures represented approximately 93 percent of the goal.

Solicitation has not been completed in some divisions although the drive officially closed with last night's report meeting. Complete reports have not been received from workers in the county and several division leaders report calls yet to be made in the city solicitation. The official report will be made in the near future, campaign officials report

Workers who wish to make late solicitation reports may do so at the Community Foundation office at 142½ East Center street and residents who wish to make a pledge or contribution may call this office.

Campaign Called Success

The more than 100 volunteer workers present had high hopes of a victory dinner, but were far from daunted when the final figures were posted. The campaign was a success in their opinion. This year's chest included two new agencies, the Family Service Society and the Fresh Air Fund, and aside from local agencies, this year's budget included $3,500 for the U. S. O. Agency budgets were higher, due to the increase in operating costs.

Reports showed that in both city and county, the campaign workers met with cooperation from the Chest subscribers. In many cases subscriptions were increased and new subscribers added.

While in many reports quotas had not been reached, several divisions met or topped their assignment.

Bringing a rousing cheer from the crowd was the report of Robert Fay who headed the industrial employe division.

This division, through the cooperation of management and labor topped its quota by more than $4,000. Assigned to raise $14,664.60, volunteer contributors gave $18,742.10.

The women's division, headed by Mrs. Paul Bachman, rang doorbells and tramped pavements to

Shovel Blood Donors Give 111 Pints

Employes of the Marion Power Shovel Co. contributed 111 pints of blood when the Red Cross Bloodmobile unit visited the plant yesterday. One hundred thirty-one of the registered 168 donors made the contribution.

C. J Roberts, a member of the Red Cross blood program committee, was the recruitment chairman.

The Bloodmobile is at the recreation room of the First Presbyterian Church today.

Local physicians who volunteered their services yesterday were Dr. R. C. Campbell, Dr. S. E. Katz and Dr. Floyd Yeager. Registered nurses assisting were Mrs. R L. Gettman, Mrs. Bernard Smith and Miss Clara Todaro. Assisting also were: Mrs. Jonn Turner Jr., Mrs. Charles Sherer, Mrs. Goldie Swope, nurse's aides; Mrs. C. W. Smoot, Mrs. Homer R. Waddell, Mrs William Marble, Mrs. Emanuel Fogle, Mrs O. P. Miller, Mrs. W. D. Scranton, Mrs. H. E. Bennett, Mrs. Lloyd Williams, Mrs. Inez Burnap, Mrs. Lowell Pollock, Mrs. Harold Meister, canteen; Mrs. M. C. Murpay, Mrs. George Darling, Mrs. Wayne Brown, Mrs. LeRoy Reynolds, Mrs. Everett Frye, staff aides; Mrs. Rex Kilbourn, Mrs. Louis Kraft, Mrs. Abe Schoen, Gray Ladies: Mrs. Frank M. Knapp, motor service, Mrs. John P. Courtright, volunteer chairman, was in charge.

Bomb Test Off, Bad Weather

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Oct 26—(AP)—A scheduled atomic bomb drop was called off today with planes in the air, presumably ready to loosen their nuclear weapons.

The AEC said storm conditions over the big testing range northwest of here failed to improve as rapidly as had been expected.

A red-tailed B-29 was seen heading eastward shortly after restrictions on civilian aircraft in the area were lifted. It presumably was heading back to Kirtland Air Base, N. M.

The AEC had scheduled the second of a series of tests here after rains and high winds subsided last night. But officials felt today conditions still were too unstable to risk the possibility of atomic radiation being carried over Las Vegas and other populated areas. Las Vegas is 75 miles away.

Mediators Give Up On Dock Strike

More Longshoremen Set To Walk Out As Govt. Withdraws

NEW YORK, Oct. 26—(AP)—Federal mediators have abandoned efforts to end New York's crippling dock strike amid claims by insurgent union leaders that the walkout will spread to still more East Coast ports.

The four-man mediation panel returned to Washington last night after top conciliator Clyde M. Mills announced

"We're giving up. . . . this is a dispute which must be resolved within the union. This situation is intolerable and must be ended immediately".

The mediators withdrew after Joseph P. Ryan, president of the A. F. L. International Longshoreman's Association, pulled his non-striker group out of the peace talks, saying:

"We're not getting anywhere. We're leaving."

Strike leader John (Gene) Sampson told newsmen:

"That means Philly and Baltimore will be tied up, too.'

In Philadelphia last night, four ILA Longshoremen's Locals voted not to "work" any ship cargoes diverted there from New York, effective today.

Union dockers in sympathy with the wildcatters maintained the standing ,vote was, in effect, a strike vote.

Two Marion Natives Promoted in Industry

Robert S. Geran Named Service Manager By Nash Kelvinator

A former Marion resident, Robert S. Geran, recently was named national service manager of the Kelvinator Division of Nash Kelvinator Corp., in Detroit. He is the son of Mrs. Margaret Geran of 384 South Vine street and the late Major George T. Geran.

Mr. Geran heads the field service, repair and warranty divisions of the company and is supervisor of repair plants and stations in Long Island City, L. I., N.Y., Newark, N J., Chicago, Detroit, and Stockton, Calif. The company manufactures Nash automobiles and Kelvinator commercial refrigeration and household appliances.

A graduate of Harding High School he received his degree in mechanical engineering at the University of Cincinnati. Following his graduation from the university he was employed by the Fairfield Engineering Co. here, and later was with the General Electric Co

In 1936 Mr Geran left General Electric to join the Detroit firm. In 1942 he entered the armed forces. He rejoined the staff in 1946 after four years of service as an officer in the Army Ordnance Department.

Since joining the Kelvinator staff Mr. Geran has held positions in the sales and service departments

Mr and Mrs. Geran have two children, Barbara Ann, 14, and George Patrick, 8. Mrs. Geran before her marriage was Miss Mary Gallager of Cambridge, O.

Warren Ullom Becomes Purchasing Agent For Westinghouse

The appointment of Warren Ullom, native of Marion, as purchasing agent for the Westinghouse Electric Appliance Division at Mansfield was announced today by J. H. Ashbaugh, vice president.

He is the son of Clyde Ullom of 127 Dix avenue and the late Mrs. Ullom.

Mr. Ullom is a graduate of Harding High School and Ohio University where he received a Bachelor of Science degree in commerce.

He will make his home in Mansfield with his wife and two children, Warren, 14, and Melinda, 5.

Mr. Ullom, who was division service supervisor at the Newark, O., plant of the company, succeeds E. L. Smith, who recently was made works manager of the new plant Westinghouse is building in Columbus.

Mr. Ullom has been with the company 11 years.

He started in the accounting department in 1940, and during World War II worked on priorities.

In 1946 he was assigned to the purchasing department, and in 1949 was transferred to the Newark replacement parts center to head up that operation of the Westinghouse service department.

He will be succeeded as division service supervisor by L. J. Weaver, a native of Bellville O., who has been supervisor of the order service department in Newark.

Churchill Swept Back Into Power

6 Yr. Socialist Rule Ends; Tory Majority In Commons Assured

LONDON, Oct 26 — (AP) — Winston Churchill returned to power in Britain today He led his Conservative party to victory over the Labor government in a desperately-fought election that rung down the curtain on six years of Socialist rule but left the Tories far short of the House of Commons they hoped for.

Churchill, just turning 77, was assured of a majority, or more than 313 seats, in the House of Commons. The exact size of the Conservative majority will not be known until a few outlying districts report next week. But it will be a slender margin—leaving possibly 300 seats to Clement R. Atlee's Labor party. This is not much better than the thin margin previously held by Atlee.

The result brought to a climax six years of grim, unrelenting struggle by political warrior Churchill against the socialist doctrines of the Labor party, which imposed government control over much of Britain's industry and private enterprise.

With returns in from 604 of the nation's 625 districts, the Conservatives held 310 seats in the House. Labor had 288 seats, the waning Liberal party, four, and others, two.

In percentages, the Conservatives had won 48.5 of the total known popular vote, the Socialists 49.1 and the Liberals 2 4.

Churchill Jubilant

Churchill was jubilant — and grateful. Speaking to his constituents at Woodford, where he was reelected to parliament, he said:

"You have given me wonderful support. It never reached a higher pinnacle than it did today."

With the Conservatives back in control, it was certain that Churchill would be chosen by them to resume the post of prime minister. This is the office he held throughout World War II and lost in August, 1945, when a Socialist tidal wave swept his government out of office

He told British voters, during the campaign, that putting an end to the Cold War with the Communist world is "the last prize I seek to win." This effort, and the modification of socialist strictures on business and industry, undoubtedly will engage his attentions immediately.

Eden to Return

He may then step out of office in favor of his closest associate, Anthony Eden, who is reported slated for his former post of foreign secretary. Rumors to that effect were current in London even before the electioneering began.

Attlee now becomes the leader of "His Majesty's Loyal Opposition," a position held by Churchill for the past six years.

Attlee is expected to offer his resignation soon — perhaps tonight. The custom is for an outgoing prime minister to call on the king and resign on behalf of his government as soon as possible after it is certain he has been defeated

While a new government is being formed Attlee and his ministers will keep nominal control but will not make policy decisions without consulting Conservative leaders.

Churchill, as leader of the winning political party, will be summoned to the palace and told to form a new government.

Labor Heads Re-elected

All the principal Labor leaders were re-elected, even though the party as a whole was defeated.

Attlee, Herbert Morrison, Aneurin Bevan, and a large group of erstwhile cabinet ministers and officers in the labor government have been returned to the House. Depending on the size of the final Tory majority, the Laborites may find themselves in approximately the same position as their opponents were until Parliament was dissolved.

That is, the "working majority," so vital to a government, will be as difficult for the Tories to maintain as it was for Labor.

The popular vote gave an accurate reflection of the sharp cleavage in British public opinion

To Announce Findings In Home Inquiry

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, Oct. 26—Prosecutor Leo J. Scanlon said he will announce the findings of the Crawford County grand jury next Wednesday which has been investigating alleged irregularities at the Crawford County home.

Sessions by the jury were resumed but will be recessed late today. The jury will be recalled next Wednesday when Prosecutor Scanlon will announce his findings, he announced today.

Twice since it began an investigation into home mismanagement and inmate mistreatment, the jury has recessed to permit further inquiry into the administration of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dinkel, superintendent and matron at the home for the past 11 years.

The Dinkels were discharged last August after county commissioners charged them with 29 acts of home mismanagement and inmate mistreatment. They have appealed their ousters to the state civil service commission. The commission is scheduled to come here Nov. 15 to hear their appeal.

The prosecutor started a probe into home conditions in mid-August after the death of John W. Johnston, 86, an inmate. An autopsy, performed in Columbus, revealed that Mr. Johnston's death was caused by pneumonia. Facial lacerations, an inquest revealed, resulted from three accidental falls suffered by the inmate.

Among the charges against Dinkel was that he permitted County Home employes and inmates to work at the farm of Walter Sargel, a county commissioner, and that home farm machinery was used on the Sargel farm.

The Dinkels have been succeeded by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ulmer. Mr. Ulmer was a deputy county engineer.

New York Milk Strike Settled

NEW YORK, Oct. 26—(AP)—Milk trucks started rolling again today to serve 12,000,000 consumers in the metropolitan area following settlement of a one-day strike in the industry.

The dairies said they hoped for normal or near-normal deliveries today in the three-state area.

Fifteen thousand drivers and dairy workers employed by 200 companies won a "package" increase of $10 80 a week in an agreement which ended the strike late yesterday.

Consumers apparently will have to pay more for their milk within a matter of days—not as a result of the strike, however.

The Office of Price Stabilization has been working on a new pricing order. Unofficial estimates of the expected hike ranged from one cent to two cents a quart, with influential industry representatives expecting it to be one and a half cents.

There were reports that the employers granted the pay increase because they felt sure of the price increase.

Deliveries were cut off yesterday with the exception of emergency service to hospitals, schools, various other institutions and military installations.

Harding Students In Pep Rally

A pep rally closed the assembly of Harding High School Thursday morning in the Palace Theater. Cheer leaders, wearing new black skirts and white sweaters with red H's, led cheers for the cross country team, which goes to the district meet in Columbus Saturday as defending champion. They also cheered for the football team which played Ashland Thursday night.

During the first part of the assembly, Edwin Roland of Cleveland, hobbiest and collector of unusual hobbies, told how he obtained autographs of Helen Keller, Thomas Dewey, Henry Ford and others.

He described such unusual hobbies as making ash trays from phonograph records, flowers from fish scales and statuettes from coal.

Ford Silent On Shutdown Plans

DETROIT, Oct. 26—(AP)—A report that Ford Motor Co. would close its assembly and parts plants across the nation for three to five days in December still lacked confirmation today.

Ford spokesmen would neither confirm nor deny the report, current in automotive circles.

The report said that the shutdowns would be for model changeovers and to taper off production to meet government-established quotas. Ford's new models are expected out in January.

During the war years, nearly 140,000 women served in the Women's Army Corps, both in the United States and in all overseas theaters of operations.

"Cast Out the Beam of Thine Own Eye"

SPEAKING to His disciples, Jesus said:

"Why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but perceivest not the beam that is in thine own eye?

"Either how canst thou say to thy brother, Brother, let me pull out the mote that is in thine eye, when thou thyself beholdest not the beam that is in thine own eye? Thou hypocrite, cast out first the beam out of thine own eye, and then shalt thou see clearly to pull out the mote that is in thy brother's eye."

Junior High P.-T.A. Backs School Levy

The P.-T.A. of Edison Junior High School voted Tuesday night to support the four-mill school levy following a talk by Robert G. Haldeman at the school.

A clarinet quartet from Harding High School, composed of Erman Seckel, Don Couch, Regina Cleveland and Pat Clingenpeel, was featured at the meeting.

Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Donald McWhertet, and the pledge to the Flag was led by Russell James. Miss Mary Ellen Matson led group singing.

Carl Fogle, president, introduced the following officers and committee chairmen: Mrs. Howard Orr, first vice president; George Whitehead, second vice president, Mrs. Joseph Azaroff, secretary, Dwight Foreman, treasurer, Mrs. T. E. Reed, council representative, and Mrs. C. L. Haughn, council alternate.

Committee chairmen include Mrs. Howard Orr, program, T. E. Reed, ways and means, Mrs. Edward Craft, membership, Mrs. Edwin Price, social, Mrs. A. P. Fortner, devotions, Mrs. Clarence Whitehill, publicity, Mrs. Orville Hazen, study club, Miss Mary Ellen Matson, music and Mrs. Bacel Pickens, magazines.

Faculty members were introduced by J. E. Frew, principal, after which parents visited classrooms and talked with teachers.

Cub Scouts Hold Halloween Party

A Halloween masquerade party was held by Cub Scout Pack 2, sponsored by Oakland Heights School, Thursday night, Oct. 18, at the school.

Prizes for the best costumes were awarded, judges for which were Miss Violet McBride, principal of Oakland Heights School, Mrs. Paul Rudolph, president of the Oakland School P.-T.A., and Bob Cheetham, field Scout executive with the Boy Scouts Games provided entertainment for the Cub Scouts and their parents during the evening and refreshments were served.

In a business meeting conducted by Charles Augenstein, Cubmaster, pack members were awarded badges. Those receiving badges included Jimmy Weaver, gold and silver wolf arrow, James Moody, wolf badge and gold and silver arrow, Billy Wertz, wolf badge and gold and silver arrow, Donald Freshour, bear badge and gold arrow, Gary Coons, gold arrow for bear rank. Stephen Holtz, gold arrow for bear rank. Arthur Augenstein, bear badge, Ted Jolliff, bear badge and gold and silver arrow, James Flickinger, lion badge, Francis Barnes, lion badge, Pat Kelleher, one-year pin, Clovis Dawson, two-year pin. Billy Wertz, denner stripe. Jeffrey Coy, assistant denner stripe, Donald Freshour, assistant denner stripe, and Gary Coons, denner stripe.

Mrs. Gerald Snults was presented a gift in recognition of having completed one year as a den mother.

On Tuesday night Oct. 23, members of the Cub Scout troop were taken on a conducted tour through the plants of the Osgood Co. and Commercial Steel Casting Co.

C. of C. Board To Complete Dinner Plans

Publisher To Speak At Annual Banquet Scheduled Nov. 12

The board of directors of the Marion Chamber of Commerce will meet Wednesday noon, Oct. 31, to complete plans for the annual C. of C. dinner scheduled Nov. 12.

Featured speaker at the banquet will be Eugene Pulliam, publisher of the Indianapolis Star and News, who returned recently from a world tour, interviewing prominent political and military leaders from England to Japan. One he interviewed was Liaquat Ali Khan, premier of Pakistan, who was assassinated a week later.

The dinner will be held at the Hotel Harding ball room beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Among the guests expected are the following industrial and business executives and their wives:

John L. Collyer, president of the B. F. Goodrich Co. in Akron; T. G. Graham, Goodrich executive vice president; R. G. Hager, general manager of the Goodrich Industrial Products Division; A. A. Kelley, assistant company works manager; Joseph L. Bearden, manager of the Marion Goodrich plant; Roy W. Herrick, president of the Tecumseh Products Corp., Tecumseh, Mich.; Kenneth Miller, general manager of Tecumseh's Universal Cooler Division; and Roy D. Moore of Canton, president of Brush-Moore Newspapers, Inc.

BOYLE SUCCESSOR? Mrs. India Edwards (above), Democratic national vice chairman, may be picked as interim chairman of the party by President Truman to give more time to selection of a chairman to replace William Boyle, it is reported in Washington.

Surgical Removal for Kidney Stone

One of the outstanding symptoms of kidney stone is excruciating pain. Usually cramplike in character, it is so extreme as to be amenable only to strong sedatives. It is felt ordinarily in the back, underneath the ribs, but it may travel downward across the abdomen and through the groin.

There are many causes of kidney stone, and the stones may be either single or multiple. O deficiency of vitamin A; diseases in which there is a defective use of calcium in the body, such as parathyroid disease; infection injury, or impaired activity of the kidneys may all lead to the formation of stones.

Next to pain, blood in the urine is probably the most common symptom. This is due to irritation of the kidney or kidney tubes or bladder by the stone.

Diagnosis can be made by X-ray, which discloses the presence of the kidney stone, though sometimes a special dye, which passes through the kidney, has to be given by injection into a vein, to aid in seeing the kidney stone in the X-ray. In looking for a kidney stone, all urine should be strained so that both the doctor and patient may be able to determine whether or not the stone has passed out of the body.

In treating a kidney stone, the pain must be relieved first with sedatives, followed by relaxing drugs. Sometimes a stone is too large to pass from the kidney to the bladder, in which case it has to be removed surgically.

Very often, a stone can be removed without making a surgical incision. However, in many cases the patient may have to be operated on to remove it. When a stone is present, the fluid intake should be liberal and the amount of calcium in the diet should be reduced; that is, the milk intake should be lessened.

Sometimes, the giving of ammonium chloride by mouth will reduce the recurrences of kidney stones. Many doctors effectively prevent their recurrence by giving large doses of vitamin A.

Questions and Answers

M. A.: If a woman had removal of fibroid tumors can she still have children if she is of the child-bearing age?

Answer: If, at the time of surgery, just the tumor and not the womb was removed, there is no reason why she could not have children.

No Monopoly on Knowledge

IF IT is true that one of Price Stabilizer DiSalle's helpers said recently that the Office of Price Stabilization had learned some things it didn't know three months ago, there is hope for other victims of Washingtonitis.

This is the malady whose chief symptom is a sudden inflation of the ego, accompanied by a complete collapse of confidence in the judgment and intentions of ordinary Americans; i.e., the ones who produce the wealth that makes Washingtonitis possible.

In the case of its victims in the Office of Price Stabilization, Washingtonitis caused them to believe they alone knew what was going to happen to prices and what extraordinary powers they needed to keep it from happening and thereby to justify their existence. Anyone who disagreed with them was a dirty name and probably a Republican to boot.

Fortunately, Congress didn't pay too much attention to them. Anyway, it now is being conceded that OPS not only guessed wrong about prices, which seem determined to go down, not up, but that it has all the authority it can use.

The truth is that OPS cannot really keep prices from going either way. It can only kid along people who are gullible enough to believe the promises of politicians, ruthless enough to take advantage of gullible Americans.

Sinews of Empire

IT LONG has been plain to Britons who see behind the pomp and ceremony of their government that the thing most to be feared is the collapse of the sterling bloc.

That much-dreaded eventuality has come a step closer with Australia's using debate over whether or not the time has come for that member of the British Commonwealth to link its currency to United States dollars.

If this were to happen, it would make the outcome of the British election unimportant. It would highlight a fact known to all British politicians—that it has become their grubby destiny to preside over the liquidation of an empire in bankruptcy. Theirs would then be truly an assignment to administer the fair sharing of Britain's poverty, a grim destiny which the Labor party rushed more than halfway to meet in 1945.

Britain's great problem is financial, not ideological. The people's preoccupation with the latter is little more than a diversion to keep their minds off the decay of those sinews of empire which formerly made the British pound the world's soundest standard of value.

Repairing an Inequity

ONE of the roughest inequities in federal taxes has been the levy on "profit" from the sale of houses. In cases where the proceeds were reinvested in other houses, there obviously was no "profit."

On the contrary, there usually was a net loss to the seller in this kind of a transaction, since he was selling a property whose dollar value had been boosted by inflation and buying another with a boosted value. His apparent profit was more than wiped out in the transfer of his ownership.

Yet when the time came to pay his income tax he was expected to report his inflated-currency profit with a straight face and an eager heart. Congress, after earnest consideration, wrote an exception into the new tax law which straightens out this inequitable situation.

Henceforth, a home owner selling one house and using the money to buy another within a year—within 18 months if the second house is new—is not required to pay any tax on the "profit." For the thousands who did pay taxes on this "profit" which never materialized during inflation it is too late to help their pocketbooks, though not too late to repair their faith in the ultimate wisdom of Congress.

For a Brighter Future

THERE are times when all of us whose memoirs and recollections will be of no importance anyway could wish all notable figures would realize they are not so blessed.

We could wish that the politicians who cloak themselves in the guise of sympathy for what is going on with their tacit consent either would open their mouths in complaint while there is time to prevent damage, or forever hold their peace.

We could wish that appointed officials would think each day as they jot down in their diaries what they said and thought about the appearance of these same things by hindsight.

We could wish that notable figures of importance called on to perform great works in the public's behalf would give voice to their doubts and misgivings at the time, instead of waiting until the cost of fumbling had been added to the cost of government, much of which is chargeable to fumbling.

We could wish that instead of saving up so much wisdom until their twilight years, the men of power and influence would use a little more of it while still standing in the sun; that they would not wait so long to squeal a warning that the pigs are in the corn; that they would develop half as much foresight as hindsight.

Politicians Breathe Easier

By David Lawrence

Vatican Ambassador Issue Sidetracked

WASHINGTON

EVERYBODY is off the hook now — politically speaking — on the matter of sending an ambassador to the Vatican.

By deciding not to make a recess appointment of Gen. Mark Clark, Mr. Truman has saved the day—for everybody in politics. There probably will not be any U. S. ambassador sent to the Vatican in the foreseeable future—largely because of the way a vote on the issue itself will be sidetracked.

LAWRENCE

Members of Congress in both houses will be asked to vote next January on whether the law should be amended to permit military officers to accept diplomatic posts. If the resolution isn't adopted, there would be no point in bringing up the nomination of General Clark for confirmation in the Senate. The special legislation affecting General Clark may never come out of committee in the house—at least not until after the 1952 campaign—and, if it does, the proposal may be rejected on the ground that selection for diplomatic posts and other civilian posts should be made from the retired list rather than from officers on active duty. There are dozens of political excuses that can be made on the roll calls in Congress and issues raised to prevent the proposal from coming to a vote or from getting a clear expression on the issue of a Vatican ambassador itself.

MR. TRUMAN, for his part, will get whatever political credit he had in mind among supporters of the idea of sending an ambassador to the Vatican, even though it is never accomplished.

Some of the persons who are in a position to know the views of important members of the Catholic hierarchy in this country say, however, it was a mistake on the part of the President to raise the issue in the way he did, because it stimulates friction on religious questions.

Curiously enough, President Truman and the State Department did not follow customary diplomatic practice in handling the nomination of General Clark. The rule is to ask the country to which the ambassador or minister is to be sent whether the particular individual is acceptable. This procedure is sometimes frustrated by the necessity for prompt action. Thus, in the case of former Mayor O'Dwyer of New York City, the Mexican government learned of the appointment only a few hours before it was made, so that there was no opportunity to express any considered opinion.

IN THE CASE OF General Clark, the Vatican learned about the appointment for the first time through the newspapers. This, it is said, did not please Vatican circles. United Press dispatches from Rome say that "Vatican sources expressed disappointment over the manner in which the nomination of General Clark is being handled."

There are also complications that could arise in connection with the foreign registration law. It requires that all persons who are in any way representatives of foreign governments shall register and be subject to periodic inspections as to their activities. One of the Evangelical Church groups has announced its belief that, if the Vatican is a foreign government, all representatives of the church in the United States, including priests, would be technically subject to the registration requirement.

There is, of course, in Washington an apostolic delegate who lives in a legation building and carries on what has hitherto been unofficial correspondence with the Vatican. If the United States were to send an ambassador to the Vatican, the apostolic delegate in Washington would become a papal nuncio and a full-fledged member of the diplomatic corps here and would be entitled to all the privileges and immunities which are normally granted to the diplomatic members of foreign governments by the American government. Informal relations between the apostolic legation here and the State Department, without formal recognition, it is being suggested, could bring to Washington all the valuable information gathered by the Vatican from iron curtain countries.

Rendezvous With Z

By TRUMAN TWILL

THE THREE old notebooks in my desk drawer are the latest in a long line stretching all the way back to elementary school. Like all their predecessors, the three survivors are as good as new. Eventually — like all their predecessors — they will be thrown away or given away to someone who thinks he has a need for notebooks.

It is a popular illusion, this belief in notebooks. Without taking away anything from people who actually use the things to some advantage, most of us have no more need for or advantage from a notebook than we would have for a sixth toe.

Nevertheless, from childhood on we cling to the notion that if somehow we could remember to put down in notebooks what we wish we had not forgotten the result would be a sudden spurt in efficiency which would jet-propel us into the front ranks of dynamic characters who get things done—wow!

What happens, though, is that when we become equipped with a fresh notebook and a fresh resolution to use it, the stuff that gets written down is nothing but a lot of goomaw which wasn't worth the effort required to prove that it was worthless. At least it wasn't worth writing in a notebook.

A better way to remember the relatively few things worth remembering is the scrap-of-paper filing system. This consists of tag ends of paper bearing cryptic messages in code, decipherable only by one person. These are filed in pockets and hatbands for future reference.

The beauty of the system is that most of them end up in the possession of dry cleaners, who get rid of them without any fuss—and that does away with the puzzlement they would have caused if they had been found by the writer, which is one of the consequences of writing things in notebooks.

The scraps of paper cause no uncomfortable bumps in the pockets and are handy to have in the event a scrap of paper is needed, as it might be in the event of sudden capture by kidnapers and the necessity for dropping a clue to the state police or the FBI.

Furthermore, in the event the scraps of paper are stuck in hatbands, someone else is certain to call attention to them. This is helpful in the event a pound of butter is supposed to be taken home for supper. Otherwise, the butter would have been forgotten entirely and the reminder would bob up weeks later in a notebook as "1 pb." which would not mean a thing.

The three notebooks in the drawer are leather-bound, suitable for carrying in a pocket and never have been used. On the second page of one is a date, Jan. 12, and this instruction: "See Z." Only that and nothing more. If there is one thing certain it is the Z was not seen on Jan. 12, whatever year it was—and whoever Z was, is, or might be.

Morals in Government

By George E. Sokolsky

IN SPITE of the mountain of disclosures of corruption in government, the largest number of public workers, federal, state and municipal, are fine citizens, poorly paid, who keep in motion the wheels of government. Most of them, in all parts of the country, are on one form of civil service or another. I think, offhand, of the remarkable men in our national parks and forestry services whose devotion to the public good is notable and whose pay is shamefully small. Everybody knows his mailman of whom it can be said that he works hard to small advantage. These are public servants as much as the President of the United States or the collector of internal revenue.

SOKOLSKY

However, there are weaknesses in the structure of government in this country which need to be taken seriously and which will not be corrected by the passage of a code of morals by the Congress. The greatest of these is the cost of nomination and election, which places an elected public official often under deep obligations to individuals and groups. Such obligations are continuing, as elections come often. In Mark Hanna's day, many public officials were dependent upon corporations. Today, many are dependent upon C.I.O. labor unions. Even the President of the United States, whoever he may be, is not free from such embarrassments.

SECONDLY, THE PAY of a public official is, with the exception of the President, ridiculously inadequate on all levels compared with pay for identical work in private life. For instance, the United States attorney for the southern district of New York, who conducts the largest law office in this city, perhaps in the world, receives $10,000 a year. For similar services, a private lawyer would not regard $100,000 a year too high.

What other compensation does such an official receive? Is it the honor and glory of public office? Is it the prospect of a continuing career in a great public service? A change of President could deprive him of his position; a new attorney general in the President's cabinet could do the same

As I write this, I cannot help but think of the altogether improper attack on the United States attorney, Irving Saypol, by the judges of the U. S. Court of Appeals in the Remington case. Similarly, I recall how Judge Learned Hand attacked Saypol for wanting high bail and revocation of bail for Communists, wondering whether these Communists would run away after eight of them had already disappeared, four actually having jumped bail. The point I wish to make is that the dignity of position is not adequate to compensate for low pay.

THE TEMPTATION for moral lapses increases as taxes and the high cost of living rise while pay stands still. These men find

Marion County History Brevities

By EDNA S. DUTTON

Dr. T. B. Fisher began the practice of his medical profession here in May, 1835, and continued to attend to his practice until he retired in 1882. He served one term in the legislature in 1846, and in 1849 was elected state senator. He was one of the founders of the Marion County Medical Society and was its second president. He served as mayor of Marion for two terms, was a member of the council for 13 years and also served as a member of the school board.

Congress Quiz

Q—How much money has Congress appropriated this year?

A—Exact final figures have not been announced, but the total will be about $85,000,000,000, a record for "peacetime." In 1948 the amount was about $147,000,000,000.

Daily Bible Thought

Talk is cheap, deeds speak louder than words. We should give our lives for the brethren one day at a time. Parents do that every day, for their children: "Hereby know we love, because he laid down his life for us; and we ought to lay down our lives for the brethren."—1 John 3:16.

Holy War in Asia

By TARAKNATH DAS

The writer of this revealing dispatch about the danger of a dreaded holy war by Mohammedans is a lecturer on oriental history and world politics at Columbia University.

THERE was double tragedy in the assassination of Premier Liaquat Ali Khan of Pakistan. His murder by a Moslem fanatic creates new and serious problems.

Without making a single move, the Soviet Union has gained a new advantage in Asia which will reverberate throughout the world. Pakistan's prime minister was assassinated, in the superficial view, because his government did not take Kashmir by force. But the basic cause is the partition of India, itself, for which Indian, Pakistan and British leaders are all to blame.

Britain had been spurring on Pakistan in the Kashmir dispute because Britain considers Pakistan the great bulwark against Russia in the Middle East.

Liaquat Ali's assassin was apparently a member of the extreme right-wing political faction which believes in a holy war against India and in uniting all Moslems in a theocratic state.

This faction—the Pan-Islamic—is working hand in hand with the ex-mufti of Jerusalem, who cooperated with Hitler during World War II and is now in Egypt.

Extremist followers of the mufti assassinated King Abdullah of Jordan. The parallel is striking. King Abdullah, like Liaquat Ali, believed in a united Moslem world. But, also like Liaquat Ali, he realized he must have the support of Great Britain and the United States in world affairs.

The Pan-Islamic extremists consider Britain the enemy of Islam in Egypt, Arabia, Iran, Iraq and other predominantly-Moslem countries.

At the same time, these extremists wish to cooperate with Britain's enemy—Soviet Russia. Directly or indirectly, the murder of Liaquat Ali has played into Communist hands.

THERE ARE NOT only fanatics in Pakistan who wish a holy war against India, but fanatics in India who are accusing Premier Nehru of being an "appeaser of Pakistan at the cost of Indian interests."

The more the flames of hatred between these two countries are fanned, the stronger becomes Russia's position in Asia.

Communist propaganda had created general disaffection in Pakistan against Liaquat Ali's government. Unrest has been evident both among the masses and among certain elements of the army. Only a few months ago, the chief of the general staff of the Pakistan army and air force were arrested on the charge of plotting against the state.

Furthermore, the government has incurred the hostility of the Sindh and Pathan tribes who wish to form a separate nation of their own on the borders of Pakistan and Afghanistan.

Jan-Islamic extremists are creating unrest in Indonesia which is predominantly Moslem. Religious fanatics attempted among other things, to keep Indonesia from signing the Japanese peace treaty. They are trying to pit this nation against the British and Americans.

In India itself, unrest and anti-American feeling are mounting because of British support of Pakistan in the Kashmir issue. Many Indians believe that Britain could not back Pakistan without the support of the United States.

The strength which Russia is gaining is Communist China's strength too. That is one reason why a truce in Korea is so vital at the present moment.

THERE CAN BE NO solution to the situation in the Middle and Far East unless we recognize the basic cause — the partition of India.

Liaquat Ali's murder is the direct result of this, just as the assassination of Gandhi was also due to the partition.

India and Pakistan must be reunited in a federal government which will accord full cultural autonomy to all peoples and religious groups so that a united India may pursue a foreign policy hand-in-hand with the United States. That is the only hope.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Ah, That De Luxe White House!

The White House remodeling is nearly completed and the President will move back soon. Whatever happens to him from now on it won't be the result of his bathtub crashing through the weak flooring. The building has been completely done over in the modern manner. An up-to-the-minute broadcasting room has been added. This will go down in history, unless Harry's radio delivery improves, as "The Room Truman's Radio Coaches Slept In."

PHILLIPS

One of the top features is a completely new kitchen, with all the wonderful modern gadgets. The effect of this on the President's disposition may be terrific. It is impossible to get efficient government if a President is being constantly asked by the wife to look under the icebox and see if the basin is overflowing.

The old-fashioned kitchen of yesterday might explain Harry's irascibility. When a man listens to all those video commercials, with instructions how to get a late snack by merely turning the sandwich lever and twisting a knob on the beer compartment, it does something to his disposition when he has to work with an old style refrigerator.

There will be a deluxe range or two in the remodeled structure and that will make life easier there. When Harry got his eggs there before the reconditioning he had the feeling they were just eggs. Now every time he looks into a platter of 'em sunnyside up he will know the best efforts of the top electric, gas, steel, copper and household appliance corporations, and their engineers, have gone into them. (And he will have the satisfaction of knowing that no Republican is getting toast any faster or easier.)

The new White House features the most modern dish-washing machines. This could easily be the deciding factor in the question whether Harry will run again. Mrs. Truman has often said she would love to get out of Washington and back to Independence. But these 1951 electric washing machines can change her mind. They may have more to do with Harry's future than Taft or Eisenhower. The President can be intrigued by the things, too. He can wash a letter without effort. Just toss it into the machine and—presto!—out it comes clean as a whistle!

There will be four modern elevators instead of one old-timer. Fine! A president needs relaxation and fun. He can get his mind off his troubles by trying them all out for speed. (Sliding down banisters was all right for Cleveland, Wilson, Harding and Coolidge, perhaps, but life in the White House is more of an ordeal today.)

O.S.U. Rule No Freedom Gag, Says Lausche

COLUMBUS O, Oct 25—(AP)—Gov Frank J. Lausche said yesterday he does not believe Ohio State University's speaker-screening rule "gags" academic freedom

In an interview with the Cleveland Plain Dealer, Lausche said he thought the University trustees took a middle course when they adopted the rule

The rule requires all invitations to campus speakers to be approved in advance by the university president

Lausche said the rule lies between two extremes — permitting anyone to speak on campus, or barring everyone

He said one extreme would have made the university's facilities available "to persons advocating overthrow of our government, urging mob violence and violation of law' The other "would result in complete denial of all academic freedom"

'x x x There must be a middle course," he said. 'If there is a middle course, someone must determine who shall or shall not be granted the university facilities as a speaking forum

"The president of the university is the chief executive and first in authority, except for the board of trustees By virtue of his office, the power of granting the university facilities to speakers already lies with the president"

THE MARION COUNTRY CLUB was transformed into a witch's palace for the fall festival dance held by the Wednesday Night Dance Club Wednesday evening. The date marked the opening of the club's fall and winter season Skeletons, pumpkin faces, and other Halloween motifs decorated the rooms and the tables were centered with vari-colored candles in bottle candlesticks. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bessom and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Littlefield were co-chairmen of the host and hostess committee. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Paul Myers of Detroit, former residents of Marion.

MRS. WARREN WISE of 364 East Church street was hostess Monday evening to the Lecture-Recital Study Club. She was assisted by Mrs. LeRoy Schneider.

Miss Wanda McMahan and Mrs. Stewart Vermillion were in charge of the program. Two numbers were played by a string quartet from Harding High School, composed of Wilma Goebel, first violin; Barbara Wolf, second violin; John Gantt, viola; and Stephen Lacey, cellist.

Miss McMahan led a discussion of "Art Forms in Music" and played a selection by Chopin on the piano. Mrs. Vermillion presented a discussion of vocal music.

Mrs. Jean Olewiler McCambridge, guest soloist, sang a group of folksongs, accompanied by Mrs. Harry T. Williams. Group singing of folksongs closed the program.

Announcement was made of a meeting of Central District, Ohio Federation of Music Clubs to be held Oct. 31 at the Granville Inn in Granville. Mrs. Williams will accept reservations for the meeting from members.

Rehearsals for the annual presentation of Handel's "Messiah" will begin Sunday, Nov. 4, at the Epworth Methodist Church under the direction of Prof. Rexford Keller of Ohio Wesleyan University.

Miss Rosaline Manzo and Miss Dorothy Gail Stephenson were hostesses for a Halloween party Tuesday night when the Beta Gamma Chapter of Lambda Chi Omega Sorority held its regular social meeting at the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. The room was decorated with corn fodder, pumpkin faces and skeletons The table was centered with pumpkins, corn, and love apples. The evening was spent in playing "Bingo Bridge" and contests, with awards going to Miss Helen Wyrick, Mrs. Jack Werner, Mrs William Hoffman, and Mrs. Henry Schuler Jr.

Miss Betty Flesher assisted her mother, Mrs. Milton Flesher, in serving refreshments when the latter entertained the Happy Eight Club recently at her home on Congress street. Table decorations and refreshments were in keeping with Halloween. Awards in euchre went to Mrs. Helen Van Horn, Mrs. Elmer Graham, and Mrs. George Harper. Mrs. Van Horn also won the floating award. Mrs. Mable Lord and her daughter were guests.

MRS. EDMUND E. MYERS

Miss Finnegan And Edmund E. Myers Exchange Vows

ST. MARY Catholic Church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Patricia June Finnegan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Finnegan of 274 Reed avenue and Edmund Eugene Myers Saturday morning. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs E. J. Myers of 556 Ballentine avenue.

The ceremony was read at a nuptial high mass celebrated at 9:30 o'clock by Rev. Father Urban Wiggins, assistant pastor. Tall vases of yellow chrysanthemums were on the main and side altars and pews in the center aisle were marked with white satin bows The Mass of the Holy Rosary was sung by St. Mary choir and Miss Connie Dwyer sang "Panis Angelicus." Organist was Miss Phyllis Malo.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white slipper satin and Chantilly lace. The bodice, button trimmed in the back, was fashioned with a yoke and peplum of lace and long fitted sleeves. The full gathered skirt extended into a cathedral train. The gown was worn by Mrs. Paula Ramroth Finnegan, sister-in-law of the bride, at her wedding two years ago. A tiara of pearlized orange blossoms held her fingertip-length veil and she carried a white orchid on a prayer book which had been carried by her mother at her first Holy Communion and also at her wedding. Her jewelry was a five-strand pearl necklace and matching earrings, gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Constance Finnegan was her sister's maid of honor and Mrs. Mary Dickerson and Mrs. Catherine Hunt, sisters of the bride, and Miss Jeanine Ann Myers, sister of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids. Miss Finnegan wore a gown of golden lustre fashioned with a fitted bodice, low scalloped neckline and full gathered skirt. Her hat, fashioned by her aunt, Miss Catharine Schuler, was of gold lace with scalloped trim and she wore gold wrist-length mitts. Her flowers were bronze pompons tied with green streamers.

The bridesmaids' gowns were fashioned identical to that worn by the maid of honor. Miss Myers wore an old gold shade, Mrs. Dickerson toast, and Mrs. Hunt's gown was in a powdered coffee shade. They wore hats in a forest green shade with matching mitts, and carried bouquets of pompons The attendants wore necklaces of colored rhinestones, gifts of the bride.

Serving as best man for Mr. Myers was Joseph Drake and ushers were James Finnegan, brother of the bride, Carroll Myers, brother of the bridegroom, and Louis Myers, the bridegroom's uncle. Mr. Myers gave his best man a tie clasp and cuff links and his gifts to the ushers were cuff links.

A wedding breakfast for 50 guests was at Ringer's Inn where the tables were centered with bouquets of chrysanthemums. In the afternoon 100 guests were received at a reception at the same place. Tables were decorated with chrysanthemums and the bride's table held a tiered wedding cake. Assisting were Mrs. Willard Williams, Mrs. Phillip Finnegan and Mrs. John Finnegan.

When the couple left on a wedding trip through the West the bride wore a light brown suit with dark brown accessories and her wedding orchid. They will make their home in Dayton where Mr. Myers is employed at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base.

Mrs. Myers was graduated from St. Mary Parochial High School in 1944 and prior to her marriage was employed in the transportation division at the Marion Engineer Depot. She is a member of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority.

Mr. Myers, a graduate of St. Mary High School, is a veteran of World War II when he served with the U. S. Navy. He received his bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering from the University of Dayton.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Philip Finnegan of Florham Park, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Shaffer of Ft. Wayne, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. John Shanabarger of Bunker Hill, Ind.; Joseph Finnegan of Chicago; Mrs. Clara Waldron, James and Mary Ann Waldron of Frankfort, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Hunt of Payne; Lt. Lawrence Finnegan, Craig Air Force Base, Ala.; Miss Betty Thomas of Selma, Ala.; Misses Laura, Estella and Catharine Schuler, Mr. and Mrs. William Ginder of Galion; Mrs. Darrell Hall of Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. Carroll LaVielle, Mr. and Mrs Harry Schuler of Cleveland; Mr. and Mrs. Smith Witter of North Canton, Mr. and Mrs Wilbur Hass of Norwalk; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Reese of Dayton; Mrs. James Peak, Frank Finnegan and Miss Anna Finnegan of Lafayette, Ind.

The rehearsal party was held at the home of Miss Finnegan's parents on Friday evening The date also marked the 33rd wedding anniversary of the hosts.

Records show that fresh forest fires break out on an average of one every three minutes, day and night, the year around.

Mid-Century Club Backs School Levy

When the Mid-Century Club met recently at the Federation Home, members endorsed the proposed four-mill public school operating levy and a contribution was voted for needy children of Korea, a Federation of Women's Clubs project.

For a program, Rex Robinson talked on "Winter Travels." Hostesses were Mrs James Coulson, Mrs. Tim Wyant, and Mrs. Carl Olson. At a meeting Nov. 14, a program will be on "Christmas Decorations."

Weddings

Miss Emma Ellen Martin and Glenn Thomas Smith were married Sunday, Oct. 14, in the Prospect Baptist Church with Rev. O. E. Long officiating. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Thomas Martin of Prospect. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Freeman L Smith Jr. of North Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kraner were the couple's only attendants. A reception for 65 guests was held at the home of the bride's parents.

The new Mrs. Martin is a 1950 graduate of Harding High School and was formerly employed at Gallaher Drug Co. The bridegroom is employed at the Marion Engineer Depot.

The couple are making their home at 723½ Delaware avenue.

Wearing a pearl gray suit with coral velvet hat and navy blue accessories, Miss Evelyn Elizabeth Hazen became the bride of William Albert Roth Saturday, Oct 20, in the Epworth Methodist Church. Dr V. E Busler read the ceremony at 10:30 o'clock in the morning.

The bride is the daughter of John F Hazen of 150 Baker street. The bridegroom's mother is Mrs P. F. Roth of near Marion.

The bride carried a purple-throated white orchid on a white Bible. She added to her outfit a pair of pearl earrings and a pearl necklace, gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. D. L. Witzel of Largo, Fla., sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. She wore a hunter green suit with grey accessories and a corsage of yellow roses and pompons. Charles O. Howser of near Marion attended as best man.

After a wedding trip through the New England states, the couple will make their home near Marion. The bride attended Harding High School and is now employed with Knapp & Smith Insurance. The bridegroom attended Claridon High School and is engaged in farming.

Welcome Wagon Newcomers Club Endorses Levy

THE WELCOME WAGON Newcomers Club, at its monthly luncheon and program meeting Wednesday at Hotel Harding, voted its endorsement of the proposed 4-mill school operating levy which is to be on the ballot at the November election. Action was taken by the club after a talk on the importance of the levy was given by Lester L. Dickey, city school superintendent.

A travel theme predominated in decorations on the luncheon tables laid in the hotel ballroom. Approximately 80 members and guests were present. Serving as hostesses for the day were Mrs F M. Allen, chairman, Mrs. William Lape, Mrs. H. J. Vrooman, Mrs. A C Hindle and Mrs M. O. Thompson.

Centering the main table in the ballroom was a large globe of the world decorated as a clown and set in a nest of blue angel hair which represented clouds. Lighted blue tapers set in bowls of mums flanked the globe, and at either end of the table were large bouquets of fall flowers. Extending down the center of all the tables were yellow travel lanes on which were found toy cars, planes, trains and boats, and travel folders were at various places on the tables. Baggage tickets were place cards and favors were tiny hobo bags filled with candy.

Newcomers present for their first luncheon with the group were introduced by Mrs. C. R. Pennisten, Welcome Wagon housewarming hostess. They included Mrs. Calvin Arnold, Mrs. A. J. Adams, Mrs. J. W. Anibal, Mrs. Frank Belville, Mrs. Frank Boyd, Mrs. K. E. Miller, Mrs. C. W. Caldwell, Mrs. Ray Semmler, Mrs. E. J. Schutte, Mrs J. G. Schroeck, Mrs. Joseph Longson, Mrs. Frank Stinehelfer, Mrs. Robert Manship, Mrs. G. C. Kuebler, Mrs. H. S. Hubbard, Mrs. H. W. Roberts, Mrs. R. L. Hergenrather, Mrs. Robert Henderson and Mrs. Robert Jones.

Other guests were Mrs. C. M. Dobbs and Mrs. B. Menke.

A special prize was won by Mrs. A. R. Huggler, and another prize, going to the person present who lived the farthest distance from Marion prior to moving to Marion, went to Mrs. W. P. Davidson, who came here from Scotland.

For the program, colored shoes of various places in the United States and other countries were shown. Plans were announced for a bake sale to be held Nov. 10 in Frank's store basement.

Named on the hostess committee for November were Mrs. C. M. Rich, chairman, Mrs. Robert Fralich, Mrs J. L. Bearden and Mrs. Thorval Berg.

Bitter Battle Forecast On Clark Role

Truman Ready To Resubmit General's Name to Congress

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26—(AP)—President Truman's evident determination to resubmit the appointment of Gen. Mark Clark as ambassador to the Vatican forecasts a bitter battle when Congress returns to Washington.

Mr. Truman told a White House news conference yesterday the hula-balloo raised by his decision to establish formal diplomatic relations with the Roman Catholic Church state was not as great as he expected.

The President also asserted that sending an ambassador to the Vatican—where the U. S. recently has been represented only by a personal representative of the President—does not conflict with the traditional American policy of separation of church and state.

This issue has been raised by Protestant church groups, among them the Baptist denomination to which Mr Truman belongs.

With the obvious inference he plans to resubmit the Clark nomination when Congress returns in January, Mr Truman said there would be time in the interim for the people to get the criticism of his action off their chests.

Hopes Dashed

The President dashed the hopes of some Democratic senators who have been urging that he sidestep out of the controversy by naming Clark as his personal representative. Myron G. Taylor previously served in that role.

Asked why he nominated Clark as an ambassador, Mr. Truman said because that was the way he wanted it. That's my choice, he said, indicating he is willing to face the church-state issue squarely.

He took the step, the President added, because he believed the cause of peace would be served by having an official representative at the Vatican. He did not mention, as he had last Saturday in announcing the appointment, the Catholic Church's opposition to communism.

Mr Truman made it plain that he, and not Clark, had stipulated the general was to retain his active military status. It was the same sort of arrangement he had made in the past with Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and former Veterans' Administrator, and Gen. George C. Marshall, former secretary of defense, the President said.

Halloween Pranks Light This Year In Hardin County

Special to The Star

KENTON—With at least five Hardin County committees planning special Halloween celebrations, local officials have reported pranks which accompany the holiday have been unusually light this year.

Kenton, Dunkirk, Roundhead, Forest and Ada all have arranged programs for Halloween. The Kenton celebration will include a costume parade with a large number of prizes for winners donated by the Retail Merchants Division of the Kenton Chamber of Commerce The celebration is being sponsored for the second straight year by the Kenton Elks Lodge.

Russell Pfeiffer who is general chairman, said the celebration would include the parade, street dancing and free cider and doughnuts.

Little destruction has been reported as having been done by Halloween pranksters, Kenton Police Chief Clarence W. Sheldon and Hardin County Juvenile Judge Joseph E. Lady said

In Ada four high school youths paid for repairs to a building they admitted turning over. In Kenton four youths, 16 to 17 years of age, were ordered by Judge Lady to stay home at nights for 30 days in pranks which the judge said involved no destruction of property.

C. & O. EARNS $3,967,000

CLEVELAND, Oct. 26 — The Chesapeake and Ohio Railway in September had net income of $3,967,000 equal to 50 cents per share of common stock. C. & O.'s net income for the first nine months of 1951 was $25,561,000, or $3.21 a common share, compared with $25,613,000, or $3 21 a share, for the same period in 1950. Gross revenues in September were $33,448,000, compared with $29,095,000 in September, 1950. Net income in the latter month was $4,264,000, equal to 54 cents a common share. For the first nine months of 1951 C. & O. gross revenues were $269,607,000, compared with $230,976,000 for the same period last year.

Sokolsky

it more and more difficult to keep up the front that tenure in certain levels of public office requires. Or to put it on a lower level, a $4,000 a year policeman, who has to buy his own uniforms and revolvers, pay taxes and contribute to pension funds, etc., may look at a $100 tip all out of proportion. A $1,000 bribe becomes almost compelling.

This is not written to condone corruption. My object is to state the facts of an ugly situation.

Nor should exceptions be made of some to the disadvantage of others. A member of Congress who is a lawyer can with legitimacy and without public censure practice law and his law partner may practice before government departments and officials whose careers may depend upon the good-will of that particular member of Congress.

ON THE OTHER HAND, a member of Congress or some other official, who may legally engage in private business, comes up for miserable opprobrium if he does. The alternative to such a combination of activities is that only those who possess inherited wealth should hold public office. Surely, in the present tax situation, few can honestly save enough in their early years to serve the public at low compensation in their later years.

When millionaire senators speak of a morals code, they might take into consideration that while they are above and beyond money temptations, they are not above and beyond the temptations of vulgar demagoguery, which is perhaps their only way of winning and holding office And this applies as well to some other holy men, particularly in the senate, who manage to get along one way or another, play the role of the people's tribunes when actually they are the slaves of particular pressure groups who flatter their cravings for praise as tribunes of the people.

Marion Board Hears Safety Talks At Green Camp

GREEN CAMP—Talks by Patrolman Doyle DeWalt of the Marion post of the State Highway Patrol and Mr. Welshheimer of the state department of education, featured the meeting of Marion County school board members, clerks, bus drivers, substitute drivers, bus contractors and school supervisors held Monday in the Green Camp school.

Patrolman DeWalt told of the annual inspection of school buses and of the laws governing buses while transporting pupils. A lengthy question and answer period followed his talk.

Mr. Welshheimer, who is in charge of transportation with the state department of education, told of the central committee that meets in Columbus occasionally to consider ways and means of making travel safer on the highway He stated this committee must approve any change in stop lights or directional signals on school buses, or any other invention submitted to it

Then if the state department of education and the highway department approve, it becomes a law for school buses to observe and have on their buses. He stated there are 6,400 buses in Ohio transporting 350,000 pupils more than 275,000 miles each school year School buses in all states are now of the same color, he stated Michigan was the last state to fall in line. They formerly used red, white and blue colors on school buses

Ivan R. Barnhart, assistant county superintendent of schools, and head of the Marion County Chapter of the Red Cross, introduced Dan Reed and John Scranton of the Monsanto Chemical Co in Marion, who talked on first aid. Mr. Reed is chairman of the first aid training classes and urged that more classes be formed in Marion County. At present it is not necessary that a school bus driver be in possesion of an active Red Cross first aid certificate.

D T Mills, county superintendent of schools, was in charge of the meeting. Vocal numbers were sung by Joyce Bentley, Madelyn Willey and Mary Eleanor Ruth, accompanied by Claren D. Sommer. Members of the junior and senior classes served refreshments.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

NEW YORK

THE Battle of the Bilge here can hurt this nation almost as much as the Battle of the Bulge —since, for the first time, roving bands of angry men have set the precedent for paralysis of Army and Navy movements by rebels who've led the walkout off the wharves of New York.

For over a week, I've watched this giant port die slowly. I've roamed its docks, sat in dingy headquarters with some well-meaning rebels. I've talked with the beleaguered and belabored Joe Ryan, the longshoremen's Union president, high in the union's headquarters overlooking the piers

Victor Riesel

During these troubled days the rebels set up their own intelligence system. Through it, they dispatched strikers to survey the Aarmy and Navy piers in this mammoth world port. The couriers talked with dockwallopers on each Defense Dept. pier and learned that almost all of the ammo, trucks and radar was bound for Europe and the Mediterranean

They were told that most Korean shipments sail out of San Francisco Bay.

SO THE REBELS who struck to unseat their own chief, Joe Ryan, and crack the contract their own 125-man wage negotiation committee approved, decided that war equipment for Europe and Gen. Eisenhower was not absolutely essential. They deliberately decided to paralyze the Army and Navy piers as well as some $20,000,000 worth of cargo now backed up on the rails as far west as Chicago. They also halted the vital tourist trade on which the British depend to keep their economy alive, and the food shipments to that unhappy island now fighting on four world fronts.

Just a few hours before this was written, as I came off the docks, a strike leader called Tom Donahue telephoned. He said his men were good men, devout men and certainly not Communists. Nobody said they were. They are good, hard working men. Devout, too. I've sat in their homes and have seen their daily bread not too opulently spread among big families.

BUT WHAT GIVES them the right to settle their inner union feuds in public? What gives any band of strikers the privilege of strangling a huge city, clogging up rails with belly-filled freight cars, ending Army and Navy shipments —including ambulances to Korea —just to settle inner union feuds? If they want to dump their union chief, tha's their business — and their business belongs inside their union halls.

Certainly they're entitled to better working conditions and the end of a miserable thing called the "shape-up," in which human beings are called on to cringe before hiring men so they can earn a day's pay. But that's the business of the men who represented them in negotiations with the ship owners—the 125 A.F.L. Longshoremen leaders were on that committee with Joe Ryan. These men approved the contract and then went out and led a rebel strike against Ryan, against the shipowners, against the Defense Department and against the people of New York.

OF COURSE, the original 3,000 strikers are not Communists. Nor are the thousands of others forced off the docks by a well-organized flying squad, 200 strong men-strong. But how will we be justified in fighting Harry Bridges' strikes on the West Coast waterfront if he paralyzes shipments to Korea, or to our Pacific bases and Alaska? Why is it right here and wrong there?

The Communist Party's Daily Worker was gleeful when it reported that "the last of the Army piers, the Caven Point Terminal at Jersey City, was down at noon. That followed a similar shutdown of the Army Embarkation docks." Then it proceeded to quote its favorite waterfront literature, the Party-line "Dockers News," a strike-time daily publication which the lefties are pouring over the wharves:

"Set up dock committees in every pier," the Dockers' News advises daily. "Register every member for picket duty. Issue picket cards. Keep up all-day picketing at every dock. Have the port-wide strike committee (run) a daily patrol in each area. Send delegations to other ports to make our strike solid on the whole coast. We must send big delegations to Joe Ryan. The International (Union) and its resources belongs to us. the members, and we demand that everything be thrown into the fight to help us win . . ."

THAT'S WHAT THE Communists want — ghost ports along the East Coast. Well, strike leadership takes statesmanship. And statesmanship takes responsibility. That means recognition of the fact that Communism is an internal operation. Already, the Red Chinese radio has told its Oriental listeners that this strike is an "anti-war" demonstration.

Even the U. S. State Department "Voice of America" has just broadcast to the world that "the strike has been seized upon by a handful of Communists among Brooklyn dockers as an excuse to spread the walkout (and) provide them with goon squads to rough up union members who want to continue working."

No private fight, this waterfront strike. Although that's what it should be—private, and in the union halls. There's a war on!

Marion Couple Mark Sixtieth Anniversary

MR. AND MRS. ULYSSES GRANT LAWRENCE

To observe the sixtieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Ulysses Grant Lawrence Sunday, a family dinner was held at their home at 749 East Center street, and open house was held in the evening. Mrs. Lizzie Hughes of North Main street, sister of the bride of 60 years ago who served as bridesmaid, was present for the dinner, and five others present at the wedding then attended the anniversary open house.

Three children of the couple, and grandchildren and great grandchildren who were there included Mrs. Virna Laucher of the East Center street address and her children and their families composed of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Stanley and children of Toledo and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Laucher and children of St. Louis, Mo.; D. Marion Lawrence of Toledo and Mrs Lawrence, their sons, John and William, and son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs James Brenizer, all of Toledo; and Mrs Knox Dunlop of Toledo, and Mr. Dunlop and their daughter, Patti. A son of the Dunlops, Robert, was unable to be present because he is attending prep school at West Point. Attendance at the open house was 80.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence were married Oct. 20, 1891, in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hudson of North Main street. Parents of Mr. Lawrence were Mr and Mrs. George Lawrence of east of Marion. Mr Lawrence first engaged in farming, then operated the first automotive supply company in the city on East Center street in the building which was torn down to make way for the present Pure Oil station at Center and State streets. Mr. Lawrence is 86, and Mrs. Lawrence, 79, and both are in good health.

Founder's Day Observed By Sorority Group

DINNER AND A program marked the observance of Founder's Day when Zeta Theta Alumnae Chapter, Alpha Iota Sorority met Wednesday evening at Hotel Harding. For the dinner, served in the presidential suite, the long table was centered with an autumn motif of colorful leaves and red apples. Favors were miniature faces fashioned from apples and the fruit motif was carried out in the programs Blue and white lighted tapers completed the decorations.

Mrs. Rosie Auble presided as toastmistress and the invocation was by Miss Betty Moore. For the program hour Mrs. Lois Ansley, city school nurse, presented the film, "Human Growth." Mrs. George Griffiths, soprano, sang a group of numbers, "Birthday Song," McFadyen, "One Hundred Little Loves," Gustav Klemn, and "Gavotte," Popper. Her accompaniments were played by Miss Rosaline Manzo.

Arrangements were in charge of Miss Helen Zulauf, chairman, Mrs Grace Leser, Mrs. Mary Ferriman and Miss Sue Miller. Mrs. Griffiths and Miss Manzo were guests.

Programs for the year are tiny red cardboard purses with the year's social and business meetings scheduled on the enclosed ac-service men on board ship enroute overseas. Plans were made for Guest Day Nov. 12 at Rogers Inn featuring a film by Miss Ruth Kleinmaier, Ohio Edison Co home economist, on "Dinner at Six."

Altrurian Club Endorses Levy

Endorsement of the proposed school levy was voted by the Altrurian Club Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Hugo Malo on East Center street. Mrs. Roy Kauble presided, and devotions were by Mrs. Matt Hornby. Mrs. A. H Potter gave a poem. It was voted to contribute to a new Red Cross project backed by the Federation of Women's Clubs, a plan to provide Christmas remembrances for

Planting A Tree

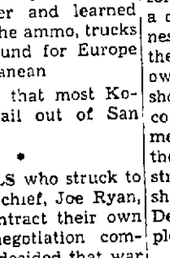
By Inez Robb

NEW YORK

IT WAS A wonderful night for walking down Fifth Avenue: warm, soft and Indian summer to the core.

I was full of good will toward man and Dodgers. And if the head of clan Robb was less full of good will toward the Dodgers, it was his fault for insisting on betting a champagne dinner that the Bums would win the pay-off series with the Giants.

"But it was a wonderful dinner, and what if you do have to pay for it on the installment plan? We're only middle-aged once!" I said.



Inez Robb

So we walked another block or two and that's when we saw this big crowd on the southwest corner of Fifth Avenue and 51st Street.

It could have been an accident, an organ grinder with a monkey, an illegal street vender with a tray of 39-cent neckties, a political rally, a street fight or a lady-burglar throwing a brick through a window. Anything attracts a crowd in New York, even at 10:30 p. m.

BUT WHEN we joined the mob, we discovered it was none of these everyday occurrances that fascinated the throng of sidewalk superintendent. It had gathered, instead, to superintend a rare and awesome event, one seldom seen in this concrete city: the planting of a tree.

Only God can make a tree, but only John D. Rockerfeller Jr. can afford to plant a 55-foot honey locust on Fifth Avenue, and that was what he was doing. Not in person, of course. A crew of 20 was tugging and hauling, with the aid of a lot of mechanical equipment, to get the tree in place.

It had been necessary to blast a hole ten feet square in the sidewalk, and now the locust was resting in the excavation. The ball of earth in which its roots were tightly wrapped in heavy canvas was eight feet in diameter and it must have weighed tons.

BY THE TIME WE joined the superintendents, the tree had been inched off the heavy trailer truck that had brought it to town from the green pastures of New Jersey The locust was leaning drunkenly out into Fifth Avenue.

"You gotta straighten her up, Joe," a dozen superintendents called to the perspiring workmen.

Sidewalk crowds in New York are used to directing Bull-dozers, earthmoving equipment, steam shovels, masons and all the instruments and men that go into construction of a building. But a tree! That was an unexampled opportunity!

"Gosh! Arbor Day!" said a young Air Force sergeant, in Midwest accents. "Don't skin the bark," he warned.

Two men pushed their way through the crowd.

'They're tearin' up the streets for a new water main," one explained knowingly as he eyed the hole in the sidewalk.

"Every time they do that, Tammany cops another billion," his companion said.

THE WOMAN in the dinner dress, the mink cape and the orchids nudged the man in dinner clothes.

"We had a tree like that in our back yard when I was a kid in Walla Walla," she said.

"Straighten her a little more," the sidewalk superintendents ordered as the men tried to get the tree in line with the aid of a huge crain attached to two trucks.

That failed to work, and a young men in the work crew suggested using an ordinary jack to move the tree slowly upright. The foreman told him to try it. In ten minutes, the tree was straight as a die.

"American ingenuity," said the man in the dinner coat. "It's what wins wars."

It was 11.30 p. m. when we resumed our walk, but the sidewalk superintendents, hundreds of them, stood glued to the pavements It isn't every day — or night — you can see a tree planted in New York.

"And if your wife don't believe that excuse when you get home," the cop on the corner told the superintendents, "I'll sign your excuse."

From A Lower Berth

By Hal Boyle

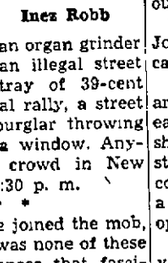
ROCHESTER, N. Y.

AMERICA IS A wonderful adventure — seen from a lower berth.

You can roll up the country you love and see it speed by in the night. Maybe it is darkness, or magic, or middle-age, but it always gives me a thrill.

The excitement I felt at traveling a train at the age of twelve I still feel at forty. You would think that moving around so much, seeing guys sell imported needles in Baltimore or trying to peddle the United Nations goal of a free world in Dubuque—well, you would think a man would either stay juvenile or become cynical.

The truth is that neither happens. The United States still is a bedrock base of optimism. And the choice isn't therefore so simple. You stay as young and eager as life first taught you



Hal Boyle

People are spying in near places and dying in far places to preserve the basic American goals.

What they achieve nobody can truly measure.

But lying at night in a lower berth in a railway car rolling across the fertile fields of our land, one cannot escape how far they stretch, how much they mean, how empty they must be right now for those who used to be there and now are someplace else, holding the American line afar.

IT HUMBLES YOU quite a bit. The broad acres of harvested grain surge around you, washing away like rain through smog.

This is the heartland of our time, the cultivated acres you see from a lower berth as you speed across the growing places, lit by the fires of the spaced but unsleeping muscled haunts of steel.

In summer you can bookkeep the thousands of fireflies as you wheel on. Other times you can count the music of the wheels — that's where George M. Cohan got the idea theme for "Over There."

A train gives a feeling of movement. That is why riding a lower berth makes you love your country more. You roll up the curtain in the night. You look out at the landscape that other people own, but somehow it belongs to you and you belong to it.

It flashes by in the night . . . a darkened barren farm . . . a neon sign selling beer . . . white bulbs welcoming the high school crowd to hamburgers after the basketball game . . . A silent store with white flaring signs.

You lie stretched out at ease, you in your lower berth, and gaze at the troubles and victories of your time as the communities and people whizz by, it is all part of you . . . and all so far away.

YOU ARE PART of it all and yet away from it all. Lying in that lower berth you are as separate as if you were in a jet plane flying toward the Yalu River.

There is a fat man puffing himself to sleep in the upper berth above you. There are two stern lady salesmen wheezing in sleep beside you.

You are all knit together as the train wheels on through the night —and yet kept apart in Puritan privacy by the tradition of a green cloth curtain.

Looking out at night from the soft white meadows of a lower berth, you gaze at America, the lovely land too wide for any eye to hold or any heart to cup.

Wide and wasteful it streams by too much for you to spear in the dark, too wide for daylight understanding, just America, seeking a world focus, its many empty acres crying for employment in a crowded world.

Or so it seems from a lower berth.

EPWORTH CIRCLE MEETS

For a meeting of Epworth Methodist Circle No. 5 Wednesday, Mrs. Ralph Hurr was hostess in her home at 551 Mary street. Mrs. G. A. Sulser, mother of Mrs. Hurr, was a guest. The meeting was in charge of Mrs. J. S. Muntsinger, and devotions were by Miss Etta Jacoby. Mrs. Everett Uncapher presented the program. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Earl Hale at 392 East Church street.

Auto Dealer On Stand In Court Martial

TOLEDO, O., Oct. 26—(AP)—More testimony was expected today from an automobile dealer who told an Army court martial that selling cars to important persons at large discounts was an accepted advertising policy.

Harold E. Hertzfeld, president of Hertzfeld-Oldsmobile Inc., was called back to the stand at the trial of Col. Shirley W. McIlwain, former commander of the Rossford Ordnance Depot near here.

The Army officer is accused of buying three cars from the company at excessive discounts and soliciting liquor from firms doing business or planning on doing business with the government.

The prosecution has brought out that Hertzfeld's auto parts business with the depot jumped from $34,700 to $408,202 over a period of several years.

Hertzfeld testified yesterday that Col. McIlwain bought a car from the company in 1948 and then by trading in 1949 and 1950, obtained three new cars without any cash outlay.

On cross examination, however, he said this was not an unusual procedure. He told the court that as a matter of advertising policy all automobile agencies offered large discounts to get their products into the hands of important people.

As an example of important persons, he listed clergymen, industrialists, heads of large companies or organizations, and personnel of Army installations.

During the last year, he said, 100 Oldsmobiles had been sold to employes of the ordnance depot.

G.I. Auxiliary Endorses Levy

The auxiliary to G. I. post No. 584, American Legion, voted to endorse the four mill school levy after a talk by Lester L. Dickey, superintendent of city schools, Wednesday night at the Veterans' Memorial Home.

Mrs. Helen Keller reported on the membership drive now being conducted. Mrs. Ruth Matthews, child welfare chairman, reported that two needy families had been helped.

The group decided to send a box of food to each of the four veterans' hospital in Ohio. Mrs. Dorothy Roseberry was enrolled as a new member.

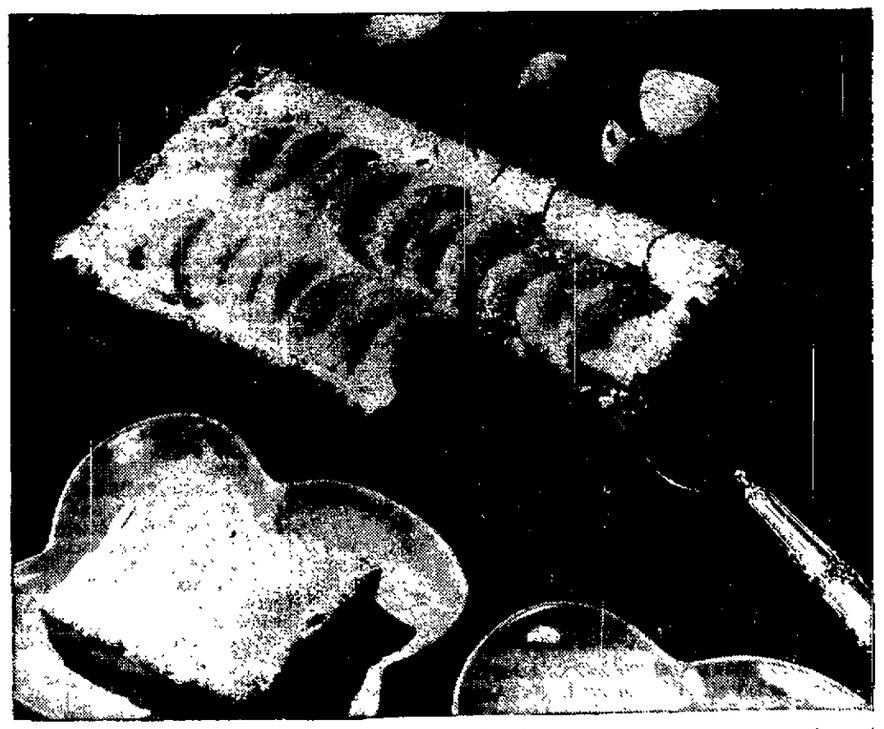
Peach Kuchen Brings Old Country To Table



THE Saturday of a typica homemaker in Germany years ago found her performing the same custom: baking her weekend's supply of breads, rolls and "kuchen." The newer generation may no longer observe this ritual, but the popularity and deliciousness of eating the rich food still wins it praise from everyone. Tender, good eating, served hot from the oven with coffee or as dessert with Saturday night supper, it's certain to become an enjoyable custom with your family.

PEACH KUCHEN

1/3 cup enriched corn meal
1 cup sifted enriched flour
½ t baking powder
¼ cup sugar
½ t salt
¼ cup shortening
1 egg, beaten
1 T milk
2 cups sliced peaches, fresh, frozen or canned
½ cup brown sugar
1 egg yolk, beaten
¼ cup milk
¼ t nutmeg

Sift together corn meal, flour, baking powder, sugar and salt. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Add milk to beaten egg. Combine all at once with dry ingredients. Pat mixture into bottom and sides of a 7-by-11-inch pan. Arrange peaches in two rows over dough. Sprinkle brown sugar on peaches. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 F.) for 15 minutes.

Combine beaten egg yolk, milk and nutmeg. Pour over peaches. Continue baking kuchen 5 to 10 minutes longer, or until custard is firm. Cut and serve warm.

Note: If white corn meal is usel, increase milk to 3 tablespoons.

Love Triumphant

By ADELE GARRISON

I drew a long breath at Harry Underwood's final sentence—I needed it — and finally found words to answer him.

"You miracle worker!" I told him. "You sound like the Aladdin who was my favorite 'god from the machine' when I was a child. All my fears have vanished."

"For the love of all your ancestors, Madge," Lillian implored, "don't hand him any more lollipops, Dicky"—she turned to my husband, who was grinning in comradely fashion at her—"I appeal to you. Please flex your right arm and give your befuddled spouse a clout where she needs it most. She's gone completely off her nut. God help the Chief's planned dinner party if those two prize pecans are engineering it."

Her big husband struck a melodramatic attitude.

"'Hell hath no fury'—" he intoned, then turned to his wife.

"Finish it yourself, Sweetie pie," he squeaked in a high falsetto.

"I'll finish you!" she retorted, flashing a question to me in the sign language we long ago perfected. "Are you finished?" her sign said, and I gave her an answering affirmative. She rose, came over to him, and took him by the collar.

"Come over by me," she said, "while I cut you down to size.

I knew that she was "playing for laughs," knowing that Bill and Mildred, at least, needed one. And her reward was quick. Bursts of almost hysterical laughter filled the room, and antics of oldsters being always irresistible to young people when they aren't too blase to listen to them.

While they were still "in stitches," I gave a muted injunction to Dicky.

"Get a word to Bess Conway," I said. "Tell her I want a word with her when Mildred will not observe it."

Dicky gave me one of this teasing grins."

"All you need," he said, "are some soft shoes and a cloak of invisibility, and you could model the latest brain wave in lady detec-atuffs, straight out of de haid of the newest who-dun-it scribe. By the way, why don't you send for Katie, our sapient detecatuff sleuth? She'd be invaluable in the present dilemma."

All you need," I retorted, "is a muffler for your voice and a push button to keep your bright ideas under control."

"Okay, okay," he said wearily. "Once more I bow my head to the yoke. What were you about to say when I interrupted you?"

"I was going to ask you if you could invent an excuse for keeping Mildred and Bill so occupied that they will notice nothing."

"Can do," he replied. "That's the easiest ever. I'll just go up to them, say 'Consider me a wall,' and turn my back upon them. If they hear me, they'll be delighted, and you'll be safe from observation. If they don't, they'll never know I'm there, or notice what you are doing."

He sauntered away, not going toward the betrothed couple at first, but finally ranging himself in front of them.

When the laughter at the antics of Lillian and Harry had drained off, I spoke to my auditors again.

"I think I have finished everything now," I said. "And the quicker you get to bed the better. We have a hard day in front of us tomorrow.

"Just a second," I heard Dicky say, and knew he was engaging their attention to camouflage my talk with Bess Conway. I saw him manage to speak to her without Mildred's noticing him. Then Bess came over to me, as Dicky effectually screened her from Mildred.

"Your husband said you wished to see me," she said.

Patrol Lists Five Traffic Accidents

Driver Uninjured When Car Rolls Over Near Prospect

Four accidents yesterday and one early today were reported by the state highway patrol.

A car driven by George Welsh, 18, of near Richwood was considerably damaged when it rolled over once in a ditch after hitting two mailboxes on Route 47, about half a mile west of Prospect. The accident occurred at 12 45 a m. today as Welsh was driving north on Marion Township Road 71-A and failed to make the turn onto Route 47 He was not injured.

A car driven by Emmet Trout, 61, of near Marion struck the rear of a car driven by Ralph Kemmerly, 50, of 190 North Seffner avenue at 8 last night at the intersection of Route 529 and a county road. Both cars were traveling north on the county road and were considerably damaged. Neither driver was injured.

Trout was arrested on a charge of unsafe operation and was cited to appear in Marion Municipal Court Oct. 29.

Boy Hurt

Randall Stockwell, 5, of near Galion was injured when he was hit by a pickup truck on Route 97 west of Blooming Grove yesterday at 4 p m. Gene Daugherty, 19, of Mansfield was driving the truck.

The child was taken by his mother to Galion City Hospital for treatment of a fractured collar bone and scalp lacerations.

Cars driven by Rose Janko, 39, of Shaker Heights and William Collier, 26, of Neon, Ky., collided head-on yesterday at 3 p.m. as Mrs Janko attempted to pass traffic ahead of her on Route 42 in Morrow County, a mile north of the Delaware County line. Both cars were considerably damaged

Treated for Cuts

Steve Profitt, 44, of Millstone, Ky, a passenger in the Collier vehicle, was treated by a Cardington doctor for lacerations of the forehead.

Mrs Janko was arrested for passing without the assured clear distance and was fined $20 and costs when she pleaded guilty to the charge before Justice of the Peace Aliga in Cardington.

A dump truck driven by James Henry, 29, of Roscoe, O., struck the rear of a car driven by Ralph Parsons, 42, of near Richwood, who had stopped to avoid an animal in the road on Route 47, 4½ miles east of Prospect, yesterday at 2 p m. Slight damage to the cars was reported.

COLLECTOR RESIGNS. The sensational probe of the Internal Revenue department continues with the resignation of Joseph P. Marcelle (above) as collector for the first district of New York Commissioner John B. Dunlap said there was no evidence of "discrepancies" in Marcelle's office, but that the step was taken as result of "some" of Marcelle's "personal actions."

Air Battle

stands at 98 with 20 probables and 227 damaged.

In Tokyo, Far East naval headquarters announced two American warships suffered battle damage from Red shore batteries but both remained at their stations.

The destroyer escort Ulvert M Moore was hit by one shell Oct. 17 off Hungnam on the north Korean coast. One man was killed and two injured. The heavy cruiser Helena's superstructure was hit Oct. 22.

Infra-Red Rays Spot Korean Enemy

SAN FRANCISCO — (UP) — American soldiers in Korea are using a new version of an old weapon to discourage night-prowling Communists.

"Better than cat's eyes," is the way returning G.I.'s describe the "sniperscope" that will snow up the enemy in pitch darkness.

The 'scope was used on Okinawa and other battlefields of World War II. The present model is an improved version, details of which are still secret.

It was developed by scientists of RCA Laboratories, Princeton, N. J., using the principle of infra-red radiation. The device consists of an infra-red lamp mounted below the rifle barrel and a viewing tube on top Objects pinpointed by the infra-red beam are made visible on the screen of the tube

RCA scientists came up with the 'scope as an offshoot of research on television picture tubes

Tax Collectors Face Audit Of Own Returns

Probe Spurred By Tangled Affairs Of Ousted N. Y. Agent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26—(AP) —A federal tax collector's account of his lucrative sideline activities—and a dispute over his own income tax deductions — touched spurs today to an audit of the tax returns of the Internal Revenue Bureau's 56,000 workers.

The story unfolded yesterday under House investigators' questioning of dapper, excitable Joseph P Marcelle, who had resigned by request Tuesday as tax collector at Brooklyn for the First New York district.

John B. Dunlap, Commissioner of Internal Revenue, testified that an audit of Marcelle's tax returns showed he had claimed unsubstantiated income tax deductions and understated his income a total of $32,834 since becoming collector in 1944 Marcelle's tax returns never before had been audited, Dunlap added.

"Very Careless"

Marcelle conceded he "was very careless" about his own taxes. He testified that his net worth when he went to work for the bureau was $2,415 and a house in his wife's name. 'n 1948, four years later, he said, his gross income was $135,776.58, mostly from outside business ventures.

He insisted it was "without any connivance of mine" that his 1948 tax return, the biggest he ever filed, was routed into files reserved for individual returns on income under $5,000 These usually are not audited by revenue agents

Dunlap said he was pressing for "a complete audit" of the tax returns of bureau employes for the last three years, "including myself," and would go back farther "if it seems indicated."

Unsubstantiated Income

The study in Marcelle's case showed the former collector had underestimated his 1948 income by $11,419, and had claimed unsubstantiated deductions totaling $23,097, partially offset by an unclaimed allowance of $1,682, Dunlap added.

He said that such a case if it involved "a private citizen" probably would not be pressed for criminal prosecution, but that efforts would be made to collect the taxes believed due He did not say whether this would be the procedure in Marcelle's case.

Election

over the success or failure of the great experiment in socialism.

With virtually all the ballots counted, the Conservatives were running behind Labor by nearly 200,000 votes. Late totals showed: Labor—13,561,814; Conservative—13,366,994; Liberals—664,322.

Liberals Deciding Factor

Most probably, the deciding factor that threw this election to the Conservatives was the absence of Liberal party candidates in more than 500 of the nation's total 625 districts. The Liberals put only 109 candidates in the field.

In those areas where a straight Tory-Labor fight developed, it appeared that most of the Liberal votes went to the Tories. An analysis of the figures indicated about two out of every three Liberals voted for Churchill's party.

Even so, it was a neck-and-neck race right down to the wire.

Only slightly more than half of all the British electoral districts counted the votes and announced returns on the night the polls close. When those results were totalled, at 4 a.m. today, the Socialists held a 30-seat lead over the Conservatives.

Early today, returns from the later-tallying districts began to roll in. They came from districts, predominantly agricultural, that American politicians call "the down-state vote." A majority of them were won by the Conservatives in the 1950 election, and were considered secure for the Tories in this election.

Labor Lead Erased

Within a few hours, the returns from these districts erased the Labor lead, then put the Tories in front, and at one point had them nearly 50 seats ahead of the Laborites.

Then, shortly after noon, the tide began to turn and the Conservative lead dropped below 40, then 30 and finally held around 22. Ten of the districts still to come were Conservative in the 1950 election, three with small Tory majorities.

The Conservatives announced victory at 4.22 p.m. with the majority of 313 clinched. Lord Woolton, chairman of the party, announced the "glorious victory" to party workers.

Ike Had Better Make Up Mind, Senator Says

Delay Could Cost Him Nomination, Sen. Murray Declares

WASHINGTON, Oct 26—(AP) —Senator Murray (D-Mont) said today Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower had better make up his mind fast if he wants the Republican presidential nomination

Otherwise, Murray predicted to a reporter, Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio will walk away with the G O P. prize.

Murray's comment came after President Truman told a White House news conference yesterday he thinks the New York Herald-Tribune certainly picked a fine man in editorially supporting Eisenhower as a candidate for the Republican nomination.

In other political developments:

1. Taft backers arranged to open national headquarters here today in charge of Victor A. Johnston, once a supporter of Harold E. Stassen and sometime Republican "shadow" of the President in the 1950 whistle stop tour.

2. Mr. Truman divulged he hasn't yet picked a man from a list of about 30 being considered to succeed William M Boyle Jr., resigning Democratic national chairman.

3. The President spoke out against a reported plan of Wisconsin Democrats to invade the Republican primary in that state in an effort to defeat Senator Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis). He believes in the two party system and the Democrats should vote in their own primary, Mr. Truman said.

4. Tom Coleman, a member of Taft's campaign strategy board, told reporters he doubts Eisenhower can be represented in the April 1 Wisconsin primary unless the general consents publicly to become a candidate.

Murray said he hopes Eisenhower won't be lured into the political arena.

Texans Claim Their Cotton Is Superior

EDINBURG, Tex — (UP)— A report by the Cotton Research Committee of Texas says the cotton grown in the Coastal Bend and lower Rio Grande Valley areas of Texas is superior in some respects to that of the mid-south and southeast.

"Valley and Coastal Bend cottons when properly selected will, because of their greater strengtht, make stronger yarn than can be had from cotton of the same length produced in the mid-south and southeast," the report said.

"It would appear mills can effect a savings in the cost of raw material by buying cotton from the Valley and Coastal Bend area because of the excellent fiber properties."

The report apparently refuted a popular misconception that cotton grown on irrigated land lacks the quality of dry land cotton

The committee, headed by director John Leahy in Austin, said its report was made upon data obtained from tests in the labratories of the University of Texas and Texas Technological College.

Elite "Jailed" In New Jersey Chest Drive

NEW BRUNSWICK, N J., Oct. 26—(AP)—A group of this city's most prominent citizens is in jail today—but strictly for charity's sake.

The 36 leading citizens, wearing striped prison uniforms, were herded into jail last night after being paraded through the downtown section of the city.

But none of the group has committed any serious crime. The jailing is part of New Brunswick's United Fund Campaign which is raising money for 25 community health and welfare agencies.

Each of the "offenders" is being held under heavy bail—a total of $500,000 worth—which will go to the fund.

Kate Smith, radio and television singing star, who was made a deputy sheriff of Middlesex County for the occasion, spoke on behalf of the prisoners.

A throng of 10,000 persons jammed the streets to watch the jailbirds, carrying torches, parade to the courthouse square opposite the city hall.

There, Miss Smith and other speakers pleaded for bail for the jailbirds and urged full support of the campaign.

Sheriff Cornelius Wall then accompanied the group to the jailhouse where they were to spend the night. And the 36 prominent citizens began their imprisonment with a party in their cells Each of them will spend a day in specially constructed cells in two local department stores.

A brochure circulated by sponsors of the fund-raising stunt contained pictures of the volunteer jailbirds and described their offenses.

Two examples:

Dr. Mason W. Gross, provost of Rutgers University, alias Big Dutch, the Dream Boy, the Duke Charged with misquoting Jimmy Durante in his classrooms. Bail $22,000.

Robert W Johnson Jr., New Products, Personal Products Corp., and Johnson and Johnson official, alias Johnny Wash, Skeetin' Johnny, Budweiser Bob Charged with over-shooting the 19th hole at Plainfield Golf Club Bail $20,000.

turn in $5,281.71, topping their quota of $4,888.20 Out, so far as solicitation, were the small neighborhood business places, which formerly were included in the residential solicitation, but this year were in a separate division. Clubs and organizations contributed $489 55 to top their quota by 68 cents and the schools of the city met their quota of $1,222 05 to the penny.

Welcomed as a "tip" to eliminate numerous solicitations during the year was the plan adopted this year by the Isaly Dairy Co. employes, reported by Mr. Fay. This year the Isaly Dairy Employe National Donation Fund was set up. Through payroll deduction employes contribute from one to two dollars per month to the fund. This is pooled and will be administered throughout the year by a board elected by the employes. A budget will be set up apportioning contributions to the Chest, Red Cross, March of Dimes and other worthwhile agency drives for the year. The company was 100 percent in the Chest and is practically the same in the national fund setup Election of the administration board is now in progress.

Felder Presides

Paul Felder presided for the meeting which opened with the invocation by Rev. Father Thomas Lowery, assistant pastor of St Mary Catholic Church.

Campaign Chairman J. B. Bray pronounced the campaign a success, and expressed appreciation of the work of the volunteer workers. "Don't forget," he added, "there is nothing we cannot do if we stay together—we must pull together for our Chest, the schools, hospital, and community in general." Appreciation of the workers also was expressed by Charles Harmon, executive committeeman, Mrs. Fay, L. Otis Porter, a co-chairman for the county division, Mrs. B. H. Buettin and Mrs. John Waddell of the women's division, and Cleo Ludwig, president of the Community Foundation.

Tribute to Mr Bray was voiced by the group in a poem by Walter S Guthrie, whose illustrated bulletins provided a "boost" at the report meetings

Music at the report meetings was by Dick Myers and his orchestra and was furnished by the cooperation of Marion Local No. 531, American Federation of Music The closing prayer was by Rev Milton E Lashley.

Campaign Reports

The campaign reports follow:

Manufacturers Council, Harold Grigsby reporting a total of $17,735, Industry (other), Rex Robinson, $8,173. industrial employes, Robert Fay, $18,742 10, individual gifts, Hoover Brown, $12,444 80; suburban, Robert Kibbey, $816 50; public employes, Ray Reidenbaugh, $880. clubs and organizations. Mrs B. H Buettin, $489.50. national firms, Charles Osterholt, $4,457 96, county, L. Otis Porter, $597.75, schools, J. E Frew, $1,222 05, downtown, Jackson Taft, $12,818 66, residential, Mrs. John Waddell, $5,285 71; professional, $5,906 15. Total $89,567 88.

Marital Problems Of Conductor Ups Symphony Board

SEATTLE, Oct. 26 — (AP) — Manuel Rosenthal, Seattle symphony orchestra conductor who made the headlines but not the deadlines, was out of a job today.

At least, so far as the board of directors of the symphony is concerned, the peppery little Frenchman who came here in 1949 has been disengaged from his $15,000 a year job.

The diminutive, 47-year-old conductor was fired yesterday afternoon while a U. S. Immigration Board in New York was investigating the problems that put Rosenthal in a bad light here.

He was detained in New York Oct. 13 when he and Claudine Pillard Verneuil, known in Seattle as Mrs. Rosenthal, returned from a vacation in Paris. This was after Mme. Lucie Troussier Rosenthal of Paris had notified various individuals she and Manuel had never been divorced.

Board members here recoiled in shocked surprise, looking forward to the obvious disapproval of some individuals who contribute heavily to the symphony's support

They were forced to postpone the start of the symphony season while the conductor ironed out his problems in New York. Then they had to engage an interim conductor to meet radio commitments.

A number of board meetings wound up with yesterday's decision that "Mr Rosenthal's action has resulted in a divided civic support and a questionable possibility of further substantial support should he continue as conductor of the orchestra."

League of Women Voters Project

Candidates To Speak At Public Meeting

Marion voters will be given an opportunity to see and hear candidates for public office Monday night at a candidates' meeting which will start at 7 45 in the music room at State Street Junior High School.

Sponsored by the Marion League of Women Voters, the meeting will include the introduction of candidates followed by a question period to give the audience an opportunity to participate in the discussion. Arthur Haas general secretary of the Y M C A, will serve as moderator

Mrs B N Salzman, chairman of the League's Voters' Service Committee, which has arranged the meeting, has pointed out that the league is a non-partisan organization Mrs Salzman said "This meeting is not of a political nature, but is simply an educational approach to present from all viewpoints the fact about the issues and candidates to be voted upon Citizens of Marion and Marion County who are interested in the outcome of the Nov 6 election are invited and urged to attend this meeting

Will Explain Purpose

The program will open with the Pledge to the Flag, led oy a Marion Boy Scout Mrs Kenneth Koechig will explain the aims and purposes of the meeting and Mrs Harold Fetter will introduce the candidates, who will be given a few minutes for remarks

Mrs J W Fretz will present information on the issues to be voted upon, including the $600,000 bond issue for improvement and expansion of the sewage disposal system, and the three proposed tax levies to provide additional funds for operating expenses of the sewage plant and system, to provide additional funds for recreational purposes, and to provide funds for school operation expenses

State Issue

Information will also be presented on the one state issue to be voted upon in this fall's election "Shall the proposed amendment of the Constitution of the State of Ohio, relative to more than one Probate Judge to a County, be adopted?"

This is defined as, "A proposition, by joint resolution of the General Assembly of Ohio, proposing to amend Sec 7 Art IV of the Constitution of the State of Ohio, so that each county may have more than one Judge of the Probate Court, as the General Assembly may determine by law."

GROUND OBSERVERS MEET

Members of the Marion County Ground Observer Corps met with officials from the Columbus office of the corps Wednesday and saw training films on the statewide operation of the organization The meeting was held in West Hall at Harding High School Wednesday evening Approximately 25 men from the county group attended the meeting

Highway Dept. Action Illegal, Auditor Says

State Trucks Used For Private Work, Ferguson Claims

COLUMBUS, Oct 26 —(AP)— State Auditor Joseph T Ferguson said today state highway trucks hauled bituminous road material free to improve private property.

He asked Highway Director T J. Kauer to order immediate discontinuance of the practice

Ferguson said he learned about it through investigation of complaints to his office Investigators reported property owners along Route 40 east of nearby Reynoldsburg told them they were getting all this service free

Hauled Scrapings

They said highway trucks hauled bituminous scrapings from Route 40 to the front of R G Uhrig's wood working shop Others dumped the material at the Wistaria Trailer Park for driveways The trucks apparently drove back and forth to smooth the surface, they added

Ferguson said the material came from a highway surface planning operation performed by the Universal Road Planer Corp, of St. Bernard, Cincinnati suburb He said the firm has a contract to level surface irregularities by a heating and scraping process

"The illegal use of highway equipment and the illegal disposal of highway materials are bad enough," Ferguson said in his letter "But it is adding insult to injury when on the same day, expensive new bituminous road material was being used just a few miles away, west of Reynoldsburgh, for temporary road repairs

"If the bituminous scrapings are good enough for private driveways and roads, why isn't it good enough for temporary use as filler material for public roads?"

Dept Replies

Col Charles Smith of the State Highway Department said the material mentioned by Ferguson was waste and unsuitable for road construction purposes He said department trucks were hauling it the shortest possible distance to get rid of it and that anyone who could use the waste was welcome to it.

Role of Navy In European Defense Grows

Carriers Seen Prepared To Launch A-Bombs

By ELTON C. FAY
Associated Press Military Reporter

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26—(AP)—A strengthened U. S. naval force in the Mediterranean, its carriers evidently prepared to launch atomic bomb planes, will help hold the southern flank of Europe's defenses if Russia starts war.

That picture of the growing role of the Navy in the Western European defense setup emerged out of a news conference yesterday by Secretary of the Navy Kimball, just back from an on-the-spot look at the Mediterranean and European military scene. In answering reporters' questions, Kimball said:

1. Yes, he would guess that the U. S. 6th Fleet is set to deliver atomic bombs if necessary. (Last summer, Adml. William Fechteler, chief of naval operations, disclosed that carrier units were in training for handling of atomic bombs.)

Wants Carriers

2. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, supreme commander of Western European defense forces, told Kimball he "wants carriers and needs them" as a vital part of the integrated defense system. Kimball and Eisenhower apparently came to an agreement on the number of carriers that would be needed if a shooting war started in Europe, but the navy secretary said he couldn't disclose the figure.

Kimball also confirmed what had been generally apparent in recent months—that there has been a steady and substantial increase in 6th Fleet strength. He said it now numbers between 60 and 70 ships of all types. (A year ago the total was below 30).

At present the fleet includes three carriers, three cruisers, a score of destroyers, several submarines and about 30 support ships—supply ships, tankers, repair vessels and smaller craft. This is by far the biggest naval force in the Mediterranean, although Britain appears to have been sending additional warships to the area because of the tense Egyptian situation.

IN THE SERVICE

Paul L. Craft, son of Mrs. Laura Craft of 900 Bellefontaine avenue, has recently been promoted to sergeant at Haneda Air Base in Tokyo, Japan. Sgt. Craft attended Edison Junior High School. After entering the Air Force, June 1948, he attended aircraft mechanic's school at Sheppard AFB, Texas. He was then ordered overseas and arrived in Japan in September 1950. The sergeant's duties now include maintenance on Douglas C-54 airplanes which are flying the Pacific airlift from the United States for Haneda Air Base in support of United Nations forces in Korea.

Members Presented Certificates of Merit

Military Manpower Group Cited

Seven members of the Marion Military Manpower Committee were awarded certificates of merit in brief ceremonies held Friday afternoon at the mayor's office.

The certificates were presented by the U. S. Army in appreciation of outstanding work rendered by the seven men in the committee, set up to aid Army and Air Force recruiters.

Capt. Richard Davis, Ohio-Kentucky, U. S. Army and Air Force Recruiting district, public information officer and Capt. Roy E. Gray, commanding officer of the Columbus main district office, made the presentations.

Committee members receiving the certificates were Melvin G. Weston, chairman, Norman W. Fogt, Ivan Barnhart, Howard M. Hinderleider, Mayor Harold Robinson, Clyde Hardin, and Joe Ionne.

Also representing the Recruiting Service at the special ceremonies were T/Sgt. Darwin A. Lillie, commander of the Marion Recruiting station, and Cpl. Thomas H. Turner, also of the local station.

Masquerade Party Held by United Grange

A Halloween masquerade party was held Tuesday night by United Grange. A program was given by the Lucky Star 4-H Club, and Arthur Smith, Marion County agriculture extension agent, showed slides of scenes of interest in the county.

Prizes for "best dressed" and "cleverest" costumes for the adults went to Mrs. Ralph Oldfield and Mrs. Grace Seckel, and for Juvenile Grange to Gerald Seckel and Robert Foos. The program was under direction of Mrs. Paul Augenstein and Mrs. Charles Howser, and included vocal and instrumental numbers and a pantomime. Pomona Grange was announced for Nov. 3 at Progressive Grange. At the next United Grange meeting there will be election of officers.

ERIE OFFICIAL PROMOTED

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 26 — William J. Manning, who started as a mail sorter for Erie Railroad's auditor of revenues, will head the department after Nov. 1, T. J. Tobin, vice president and comptroller, announced today. Mr. Manning, 47, of Lakewood, O., is a native of Belleville, N. J., and went to work for the Erie at 14, shortly after finishing grade school. He was next promoted to office boy and advanced through various clerical positions in the auditor of revenues offices which were then located in New York City.

Bellefontaine Man Invents Navigation Aid

Instrument Gives Rapid Calculation Of Position

BELLEFONTAINE, O., Oct. 26—(AP)—The hobby of an Ohio man has given the United States Navy a quicker, better way to fix positions of longitude and latitude on land, sea and in the air.

It's a new celestial-navigation instrument invented by Louis J. Zerbee, 60-year-old Bellefontaine manufacturer of porch and garden furniture.

Zerbee said he was making the announcement today by special permission of the Navy, through the Bureau of Naval Research, Sands Point, N. Y.

He said he has received a contract for purchase by the Navy, and that he has started deliveries of the instrument to the service "in quantity."

Called Revolutionary

The inventor described the "Zerbee celestial fix finder" as a revolutionary development of great importance in jet-speed navigation. He called it a rapid-calculation precision instrument, embodying principles of the chronometer and micrometer.

With it, anyone "with ordinary intelligence" and a little training, says Zerbee, can establish his geographical position to within one mile—providing he has the ordinary navigational aids, a sextant, a chronometer and an almanac.

Zerbee said security regulations prohibit a complete description of the fix finder, but he said it:

"Enables nagivators anywhere on or over the earth to determine their position as accurately as by mathematical computation, almost as rapidly as by electronics (radar), and more positively than the latter in view of the possibilities of storms and disturbances and 'jamming' by enemy radio beams."

Good in Polar Regions

In addition, the inventor said, the instrument has the advantage of being dependable in the polar regions where radio beacons, radar and loran are of little use. The "fix" on longitude and latitude it produces is not subject to deception by an enemy.

Husband of Galionite Killed in Florida

Special to The Star

GALION, Oct. 26—Lt. Comdr. Eugene P. O'Brien, U. S. Navy, husband of Mary Ellen Wagner, formerly of Galion, was killed in Florida. Mrs. O'Brien's mother is the former Mrs. Mary Wagner, an elementary school teacher in Galion who is now an instructor in Davenport, Fla.

O'Brien, native of Iowa, was stationed at Corry Field. He was killed Sept. 18 in an aircraft accident while on a routine training flight near Pensacola. A student also was killed. Besides his widow, two daughters also survive.

DRIVER FINED

BUCYRUS—William R. Buxton, 64, R. D. 2, Forest, O., who was injured last Friday in a two-car collision, was fined $50 and costs at his arraignment here before Mayor Frank P. Sitler. He pleaded guilty to a charge of failing to observe a highway stop sign. The charge was filed by state highway patrolmen. Mrs. Elizabeth Wagner, 78, Wauseon, O., an aunt of Mr. Buxton and a passenger in his car, was injured fatally. Driver of the other car, Miss Zella A. Rigdon, 21, Clyde, O., suffered a knee laceration.

Coroner On Stand In Murder Trial

COLUMBUS, Oct. 25—(AP)—Coroner Robert A. Evans testified yesterday there were fingernail marks on both sides of the throat of Mrs. Ruth K. Alter, 32, who was strangled to death here last April 25.

George Phillips, 23-year-old Columbus insurance salesman, charged with second-degree murder in the slayings, lost one arm in a childhood accident.

The coroner made his statement under cross-examination by Paul Herbert attorney for Phillips.

The coroner, however, failed to confirm Herbert's theory that some hair was found under the slain woman's fingernails, which reportedly was lost at the autopsy. Herbert contended the hair belonged to some unknown woman, who committed the murder.

"Did not one of the doctors say that we have found some hair and you should take it, it might be evidence, and you said: 'we have the man'?" asked Herbert.

"I don't recall that conversation," said Evans.

Prosecutor Ralph J. Bartlett produced items of clothing and parts of an automobile, which were identified by a police detective as having been taken from Phillips' home, automobile or person.

Bartlett was laying the groundwork for the expected testimony today of Dr. Anson L. Brown of Columbus, a blood expert.

Probers Check Tax Returns

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26—(AP)—Mrs. Flo Bratten, long-time secretary to Vice President Barkley, has turned over her 1949 and 1950 income tax returns to a Senate subcommittee conducting a new inquiry into government loans, it was learned today.

A Senate source, who asked that he not be identified by name, said Charles E. Shaver, who resigned as counsel of the Senate small business committee after the probe started, also has agreed to examination of his tax returns.

The subcommittee staff, on orders from Chairman Hoey (D-NC), is making a preliminary inquiry into Reconstruction Finance Corporation loans about which Mrs. Bratten and Shaver talked to RFC directors.

One was a $1,100,000 loan, approved last year, for the construction of a luxury hotel in Miami Beach. The project fell through, however, because backers considered the RFC terms too severe.

Both Mrs. Bratten and Shaver said they did not attempt to exert "influence" on the huge government lending agency.

EX-GRID COACH DIES

CINCINNATI, Oct. 26—(AP)—William R. (Billy) Bass, 77, who once played and coached football at the University of Kentucky, died at his home here yesterday. Annual District Meetings

Teachers in Columbus; Other School Men Here

With teachers and public school employes attending annual educational meetings and conference sessions today, all schools in Marion County were dismissed for the day.

All non-teaching school employes from throughout central Ohio assembled in Marion today for the fifth annual meeting of the Central District, Ohio Association of Public School Employes, while teachers from the schools in Marion city and county joined with more than 8,000 teachers from central Ohio for the Central Ohio Teachers' Association 80th annual convention in Columbus.

300 Attend Marion Meeting

The meeting for non-teaching school employes was held at Edison Junior High School and approximately 300 persons were present for the day's activities. Herman E. Powelson, a custodian in the Marion public schools and president of the Central District, presided for the sessions.

Counties included in the district, in addition to Marion, are Fairfield, Fayette, Franklin, Knox, Licking, Madison, Morrow, Pickaway, Ross and Union.

Guest speaker for the assembly in the morning was Paul E. Hensel, personnel director for the Central Soya Co. of Fort Wayne, Ind. His subject was "It Makes a Difference," and he told how people raised in a free country with many rights and privileges are better able to develop the country in which they live.

Schedule of Events

Departmental meetings and group discussions concluded the morning's activities, and following a luncheon there was to be a business session.

President of the Central Ohio Teachers' Association, E. E. Banning, superintendent of Pleasant Township School, presided for sessions of the association in Columbus.

The brightness of the full moon is about 8,000 billion billion candlepower.

Wounded Carey Soldier Awarded Purple Heart

CAREY — Cpl. Donald C. Bakies, U.S.M.C., son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bakies of Carey, who was wounded in Korea has been awarded the Purple Heart medal.

Cpl. Bakies was wounded June 24, 1951 when a truck in which he was traveling struck a ground mine and was blown to pieces. There were 24 soldiers in the truck and all were injured.

He was first cared for on a hospital ship for three or four weeks, then was taken to a hospital in Japan before being brought to a hospital at Vallejo, Calif. He is now at the naval hospital at Bethesda, Md.

Injuries included a broken neck, fractured skull and ruptured ear drums. The ear drums have healed and it is reported that Donald's hearing has not been impaired.

Egypt Cold To Mediation

British Must Go First, Leader Says

CAIRO, Oct. 26—(AP)—Foreign minister Salah El Din said today Egypt will not consider a western power proposal that she join a Middle East defense pact so long as the British remain in Egypt and Sudan.

He told a new conference that Egypt is "prepared to consider anything that would lead British troops from Egypt and the Sudan and practical recognition of their unity."

Salah El Din had harsh words for another power whom the West has proposed as a partner with Egypt in the Middle East command—France.

France, he said "has practically the same imperialistic ambition as Britain."

The foreign minister said any outside mediation between Britain and Egypt in their current dispute would be welcome only on the basis of prior withdrawal of British troops from Egypt and the Sudan and "practical recognition of their unity."

Salah El Din again denied reports of United States mediation in the Anglo-Egyptian dispute which arose last week when Egypt abrogated her treaties involving the Suez Canal and the Sudan.

He said that America seems to regard the Anglo-Egyptian dispute from "one single aspect—the aspect of military preparedness for a future war." He added: "Therefore it is not to be wondered at that the United States disregards the principles of right and justice."

The rumors of U. S. mediation in the dispute arose yesterday after U. S ambassador Jefferson Caffery called on King Farouk.

Harding Fails To Halt Ashland Winning Streak, 19-6

through the SPORTSCOPE with A.L. McCLAIN

BASKETBALL AND GAMBLERS. Say you live in an average neighborhood and the teen-ager down the street gets into trouble and is arrested by the police.

The subject comes up at the dinner table and your average impulse is to defend the youth by discussing his home life, advantages or disadvantages. You might even agree he is a "trouble shooter" and that he will always cause a disturbance.

All well and good.

On the other hand let us say a dozen or more boys are arrested and study the reaction.

SOMETHING WRONG. Your immediate reaction is to say: that many boys can't be bad. The answer lies in society's failure to live up to its duty, the school system, the recreational program, the home, the church. Someone has failed. But certainly 12 boys from one neighborhood cannot all be bad.

This anology is used to point out our feelings toward the mushrooming basketball scandal. One or two boys may be so lacking in morals as to sell out to the gamblers, but when 16 or more are involved there is something drastically wrong with the game itself.

HIGH-TYPE. The latest to face bribery charges, Ralph Beard and Alex Groza, both All-Americans from Kentucky, were considered high-type young men before their arrests. They have always been commended for their sportsmanship on and off the floor and for their fiery, competitive but clean style of play.

Beard comes from Kentucky while Groza is a Martins Ferry product.

Their coach at Kentucky, Adolph Rupp, is one of the most respected men in the business.

Who will we make the scapegoats?

In basketball there are plenty as well as in other sports. Blame the wealthy alumnus who keeps on being a rah-rah freshman although 20 or 40 years removed from a graduating class. Blame him for providing free automobiles, spending money, wardrobes, to induce a high school graduate to come to his alma mater.

But don't blame the teen-age youngster if he feels that he left his amateur standings back in high school.

The money rolls in for an All-American basketball player and if the bononza is on why not accept a few more folded bills here and there.

NO SCHOOL SONG. The old school song, loyal school followers, cheer leaders yelling your name . . . That's for the kids in high school. Everyone knows college basketball is big time in Madison Square Garden so who's kidding who . . . What's the difference whether we win by 20 or 14 points as long as we win . . . Finally, what's the difference who wins . . . Sport? No! Money proposition, yes! . . . Money for the school athletic fund, money for the players, the promoters, and for the gamblers who rig the point spread.

CAN'T HAPPEN HERE. It doesn't take too much stretch of the imagination to project yourself into the shoes of a defenseless high school graduate who sees nothing but commercialism in what was play for the sheer enjoyment of playing.

It has happened at big-time colleges and you say it can't happen here. Let's hope not.

Special to The Star

ASHLEY, Oct. 26—Elm Valley rolled to a 65-26 win over Centerburg here last night in a Middle Buckeye Conference game here last night.

The locals rolled to a 14-0 lead in the opening frame and led at the half, 40-0. Martin spearheaded the winners as he crossed the goal line three times. The Ashley team used second and third stringers during the last half.

Next week, the locals meet undefeated Cardington at the Pirates' home field.

Prexies Unable To Stop A's Passing

By JOHN SHORT

Ashland High School is looking for bigger gridiron opponents today after dumping Harding's Presidents, 19-6, last night at Ashland for its seventh win without a loss.

The A's took charge early when they scored on the third play from scrimmage after kicking off to Harding.

The Prexies took over on their own six and after Tom McCain had plunged for three yards, Jimmy Russell was jarred loose from the ball. Don Howis recovered for the home crew and Jim Roseboro plunged over from the six. Dave Johns hit Ron Bechtel with a pass for the extra point.

Stopped Short

Harding took the kickoff on their own 28 and started a 78 yard drive. With Tom McClain carrying the load, the Prexies rolled to the Ashland 15 where with five yards to go, Chris Brady was stopped short of a first down.

Shortly before the end of the first quarter, Ken Stanley recovered a fumble for Harding at the Ashland 45-yard stripe. Jim Russell plunged for one and McClain hit Brady with a 15-yard aerial. Another McClain pass was taken by Tony D'Eramo at the two just as the quarter ended.

McClain plunged to the one-foot line and Chris Brady cut through tackle for the TD. Brady's attempted conversion was blocked by the entire Ashland forward wall.

Most of the second quarter was played in Harding territory. The A's drove to the 29-yard stripe and to the 10 before being stopped and Harding finally stopped them on the seven when a Johns to Bechtel pass was short of the first down.

Midway of the final period, the A's struck again with their deadly aerial attack which seemed to puzzle the punchless Prexies. Taking over on the Harding 44, the winners went to the 6 on a 37 yard heave from Johns to Roseboro to set up a Johns to Russ Harpster pass for the score. Before the end of the period, Johns also hit Bechtel with a TD pass.

Both the Harding and Ashland bands performed at the halftime intermission for the shivering fans.

Tom McClain was tabbed by the press box crew as the man responsible for keeping Harding in the ball game. Ken Stanley and George Kasotis also drew plaudits for their defensive work.

* * *

Roseboro, in addition to sparking the Ashland offense, was a demon on defense and turned in a couple of key blocks while defending Johns on his aerials.

Brown Fussy In Preparing For Giants

Victory Could Mean League Lead for Champs

CLEVELAND, Oct. 26—(AP)—Coach Paul (The Perfectionist) Brown is getting even more fussy as he prepares his champion Cleveland team for Sunday's game against the New York Giants.

This time he has plenty of reason for his attention to detail.

The Browns have to beat the Giants—who now lead the National League—to stay in the running for the crown.

And the Giants:

1. Are the only club to ever beat the Browns twice in a season.
2. Are the only club to ever shut out a Brown-coached team.
3. Held the Browns to a single touchdown in three games.

The coach spent part of yesterday's practice session pointing out how disastrous a fumble can be. A muffed handoff kept the Browns from scoring a touchdown in a game the Giants won, 6-0, last year. Rex Bumgardner's only bobble of the season later stopped a Cleveland touchdown drive the time New York won, 17-13.

Tied Once

Coach Steve Owen's Giants have won three games and tied one so far this season while the second-place Browns have won three and lost one.

Owen still has the rugged trio who finally proved Otto Graham's passing could be stopped. They are Al De Rogatis, Arnie Weinmeister and Jon Baker. They rushed Graham so successfully in the 6-0 game that Owen could put additional men to watching pass receivers. Graham did not complete a single pass the entire first half and only a few short ones in the second.

That was the only time in his career as high school, college or pro coach that Brown ever saw one of his clubs fail to score.

In the 17-13 game, Owen concentrated more of his men on rushing Graham. The quarterback spent so much of his time flat on his back he connected rarely.

Cleveland finally won the playoff with the Giants for the conference title, 8-3.

Trippi, Coach Make Peace

CHICAGO, Oct. 26—(AP)—A threatened feud between Coach Curly Lambeau of the Chicago Cardinals and his star quarterback, Charley Trippi, apparently has been averted.

The two shook hands yesterday and declared a widely publicized ruckus was only a misunderstanding.

Trippi got headlines Wednesday and Thursday with a charge that the Card coaching staff was "buck passing" in the club's 7-3 loss last Sunday to the Washington Redskins. Trippi indicated that he thought he was getting too much of the blame for poor signal-calling. He said "the bench" was doing most of the calling in critical situations.

Horse Owner Appeals Suspension to Court

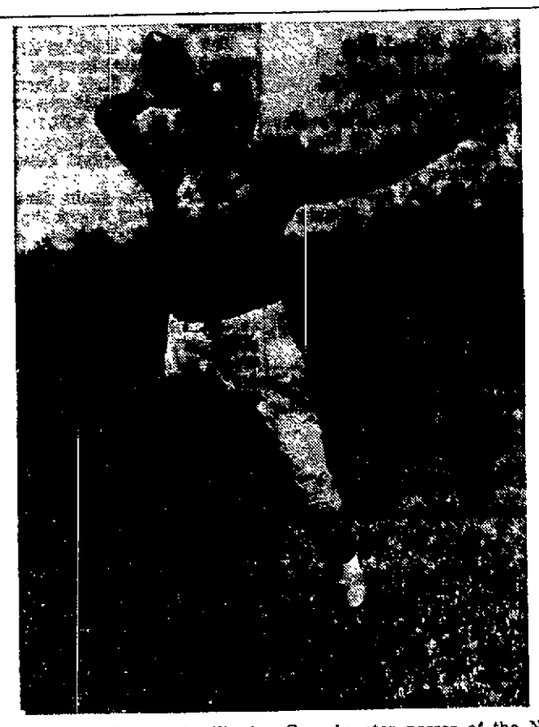
COLUMBUS, Oct. 26—(AP)—George T. Becknell, suspended from horse racing in Ohio after he charged the tail of one of his horses had been tied to a starting gate, appealed to common pleas court today.

Becknell, from Emory, Tex., was suspended Oct. 12 by the state racing commission for "conduct detrimental to the best interests of racing." The suspension was extended to Dec. 20.

The racing commission upheld Becknell's suspension by stewards at the Hamilton track last August, when he made his tail-tying charges.

B.-W. IN UPSET

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 26—(AP)—With left halfback, Chet Grob, scoring three touchdowns, the Baldwin-Wallace Yellow Jackets came from behind last night to turn in a 33-19 upset victory over Youngstown College before 8,200 fans. It was the third victory in five games for the winners and the fourth loss in six games for Youngstown.



LOOK OUT BROWNS. Charley Conerly, star passer of the New York Giants, has had a slow burn on for Paul Brown since the latter ignored him in the Pro Bowl game in Los Angeles last January. For the first time in his proud career, the most valuable player of the Southeastern Conference, rode the bench.

Caledonia Tops Marengo, 12-7

Caledonia won over Marengo, 12-7, before a "Dad's Night" crowd at the Donian field last night.

Coach Len Walls' crew scored early in the first quarter when Jim Kirk passed to Bob Hunt who carried over from the five. The try for extra point was no good.

Marengo went ahead in the third period when Puttick returned a kick for a TD. He then passed to Jim Price for the extra point and put Marengo in the lead, 7-6.

The Donians went ahead to stay in the final quarter when Kirk again hit Howe with a TD pass. Howe shook off two tacklers to make the score.

Marengo had a touchdown called back in the final period because of an off-side penalty.

Caledonia's next game will be a homecoming affair next Friday with Sparta the opponent.

Richwood In 30-12 Romp

Special to The Star

RICHWOOD, Oct. 26 — The Richwood Tigers posted their fourth win of the campaign last night by bumping Big Walnut, 30-12. The locals scored in every frame.

The first Tiger score came on a 52-yard pass from Bumgardner to Don McDaniel in the first period. They added two TD's in the second frame, one on a three-yard pass from Bumgardner to Dick Griffith and one on a 16-yard heave from Cheney to Griffith.

Griffith scored his third TD in the third period on a 72-yard gallop around end and came back in the fourth to score on a one-yard plunge. Big Walnut's two scores came on passes, one covering 40 yards and the other 25.

New Grappling Champ Crowned

Jules LaRance lifted the American Junior heavyweight crown from Joe Wolfe in the main event last night at the armory.

After Wolfe won the first fall in 13 minutes with a cradle hold, LaRance came back to get the second with a reverse toe lock in 15 minutes. He took the third in 12 minutes with a body slam.

Marvin "Atomic" Mercer will meet LaRance in next week's main event.

Donna Marie Dieckman beat Theresa Theis in a preliminary bout with a crab hold and Mars Bennett pinned Terry Majors in nine minutes with a body press.

Bennett and Theis were matched against Majors and Dieckman in a tag team event. Dieckman and Majors won the match after Bennett was disqualified in the second fall.

Bomber Washed Up?

Marciano, Louis Expected To Enter Ring Even Odds

NEW YORK, Oct. 26—(AP)—Aging Joe Louis, who wants another shot at the heavyweight crown more than anything else in the world, risks that chance tonight when he faces young, undefeated hard-hitting Rocky Marciano in a Madison Square Garden 10 rounder.

This is the big test of his comeback for the 37-year old Brown Bomber and he knows it. A loss to the hard-hitting, 27-year-old Brockton, Mass. belter means the end of the trail for one of the ring's all-time greats.

The betting professionals believe Louis is approaching the end. They have established him as a slim 6 to 5 favorite—the shortest odds in all of Jarring Joe's career.

By fight time (10 p.m. E.S.T.) the odds may go up to 8 to 5. The lowest price ever on Louis was the 9 to 5 odds for his second fight with Max Schmeling. And you know what happened—Max was knocked out in 2:04 of the first round.

Little Left

But 13 years have gone by since then and apparently so has most of the old dynamite in the Bomber's right fist. His reflexes have dulled and there isn't much resemblance between the young tiger of 13 years ago and the balding campaigner of today.

Louis, however, feels he has enough left to whip the crude, rough ex-G.I. who has come up like a rocket.

"I'll beat him," said Louis. "Maybe knock him out."

"I'll win," said Rocky, "maybe knock him out. I think I can beat anyone in the world."

It's the old story of the ring—the veteran on the downgrade and the eager, hungry youngster on the rise. And the ancient drama of the ring will lure over 15,000 fans and a gross gate of around $150,000.

Millions more will watch the struggle via coast to coast telecasts by NBC. The radio broadcast will be over ABC.

This is the ninth scrap for Louis since he was battered into dismal defeat by the raking punches of Ezzard Charles 13 months ago. Joe won all eight but only three by knockouts.

37 Fights

Marciano, one-time shoe worker who has been fighting pro a little more than three years, has won all 37 of his pro fights, 32 of them by knockouts. You can skip most of the 37 except for his split decision over Roland La Starza, classy New York contender, and his six round kayo of rugged Rex Layne on July 12.

The Lane victory established the swarthy Rocky as a big timer. A win over Louis will shoot him into a title fight next summer.

Schmeling stopped the Bomber in their first fight and Charles whipped him—the only losses for Joe in 70 fights, 55 of which he won by knockouts.

Win or lose, Louis will collect 45 percent of everything, minus taxes. His cut of the gate and the $185,000 radio-TV money should come to $132,000. Marciano will pocket his biggest pay, some $44,000 with his 15 percent cut.

Kentucky Trio Admits Fix In Another Tilt

NEW YORK, Oct. 26—(AP)—Three University of Kentucky basketball stars of recent years, already charged with fixing one game, have admitted to shaving points in another.

District Attorney Frank S. Hogan said Alex Groza, Ralph Beard and Dale Barnstable told the New York County grand jury yesterday they received $500 each for keeping the score of the Feb. 8, 1949 Kentucky-Tennessee game under 18 points.

The trio have pleaded guilty to conspiracy in the fixing of the National Invitation Tournament game between Kentucky and Loyola of Chicago in Madison Square Garden, March 14, 1949.

Groza scored 34 points against Tennesse as Kentucky won 71-56. Beard, hampered by an injured ankle, tallied six times but fouled out after 15 minutes. Barnstable made eight points.

Hayes Says Bucks Will Take To Air

Wilks Takes Over Passing Against Iowa

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Oct. 26—(AP)—There's a pretty good chance the outcome of Saturday's Iowa-Ohio State football fracas will rest on the performances of a tennis champion and a basketball star.

The No. 1 offensive exhibit of the Hawkeyes will be George (Dusty) Rice, a sophomore attending Iowa on a tennis scholarship after winning the state's high school court title two years in a row.

And at the quarterbacking spot for the revamped Bucks will be Bill Wilks, Hamilton, O., high's All-State cager who didn't turn out for the grid game a year ago, although he's a junior.

A quick idea of Rice's ball-toting ability is gleaned from his performance against Purdue. He ran the opening kickoff back 100 yards, scored on a 69-yard jaunt from scrimmage, and then took a 55-yard pass for another tally.

Signal Caller

Wilks moved in as Ohio's signal caller as a result of extensive lineup doctoring on the part of Coach Woody Hayes after last Saturday's devastating 32-10 loss to Indiana. Under the change, Quarterback Tony Curcillo moves to fullback as Wilks moves in, and Bernie Skvarka assumes the left-halfback post of injured Vic Janowicz, the All-America all-around guy.

Despite the bewildering setback at the hands of the three-touchdown underdog Hoosiers, some 70,000 fans will sit in on Saturday's fray in which the Hawks will try to avenge a monstrous 83-21 loss to Ohio in 1950.

With Janowicz out of the game except for point-after-touchdown and other non-strenuous chores, Hayes said he'd call on several boys to split up Vic's usual 60-minute job.

Skvarka will do the running, Sophomore George Rosso of Pittsburgh and Freshman John Shelton of Ironton will divide the defensive duties, Shelton will do most of the punting, either Shelton or Tommy Hague of Rocky River will kick off, and Wilks will handle the passing usually assigned to Janowicz.

Warm-up Session

The Bucks had only a short warm-up session on tap today. The Hawks, who flew into town early this morning, also will tune up at the stadium.

Hayes tipped off some of his comeback strategy after yesterday's workout. Noting that few teams have been able to puncture the Iowa forward wall with rushing tactics, the Buckeye mentor declared:

"We'll be throwing that ball Saturday." Of Ohio's six touchdowns this year, five have come through the air.

Iowa will be tossing a few, too. The Hawks' quarterback, Burt Britzmann, has completed 32 of 66 for 470 yards and five touchdowns. The foe has completed 60 of 91 against the Bucks this year.

Dodgers Bidding For Blackwell

BROOKLYN, Oct. 26—(AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers' search for a top-flight starting pitcher to go with Don Newcombe and Preacher Roe, may be completed shortly.

A major trade is cooking between Brooklyn and Cincinnati whereby Ewell Blackwell of the Reds may come to Brooklyn in exchange for either Carl Furillo, Duke Snider and Andy Pafko.

Vice President Buzzy Bavasi of the Dodgers admitted yesterday he had discussed possible deals with Gabe Paul, general manager of the Reds, but no agreement had been reached.

The Reds reportedly requested Duke Snider, Carl Furillo and Andy Pafko in that order for Blackwell. The Reds, according to rumors, agreed to a man-for-man swap in the case of Snider or Furillo but requested a pitcher along with Pafko.

C.I.O. Members Attend School

Study Workmen's CompensationSubjects

Nine Marion C.I.O. members took part late this week in a three-day school on the subjects of workmen's compensation, industrial safety and unemployment compensation, held in Columbus by the Ohio C.I.O. Council.

The school, an annual affair, drew more than 150 representatives who deal with these problems in their local unions. The delegates attending this week's school came mostly from the central and southern parts of Ohio. Last week some 200 members from the northeastern section of the state took these courses.

Those from Marion and the unions they represented follows: Automobile Workers, Local 750, Grace E. Mossbarger of 390 North Prospect street and Charles J. Wilson of 735 Silver street; Steelworkers, Local 2721, Herman L. Rinehart of 747 Davids street, Charles A. Moore of 933 Davids street and R. H. Hurley of 226 Forest Lawn boulevard; Steelworkers, Local 1947, James C. Jenkins of 287 Rose avenue, Steelworkers, Local 1949, O. L. Dennison of LaRue and Paul J. Malloy of 561 North Prospect street; Marion Industrial Union Council, Harold Townsend of 185 Glad street.

The three-day school dealt with specific and detailed problems in the fields of workmen's compensation, industrial safety and unemployment compensation

For instructors, the delegates had technical experts from the Industrial Commission, the U. S. Department of Labor, the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, as well as lawyers and technicians from the C.I.O.

Resignation Of Allen County Sheriff Asked

G.O.P. Club Raps W. Ray Dailey, A Republican

LIMA, Oct. 26—(AP)—Sheriff W. Ray Dailey, a Republican, yesterday scorned a demand for his resignation from the board of directors of the Allen County Republican Club.

"Of course I won't resign," Dailey told a reporter when informed of the directors' resolution.

"I don't believe the Allen County Republican Club represents the thinking of the people of Allen County who elected me," he said.

The directors adopted a resolution calling for Dailey's immediate resignation "in the interests of good government." The resolution said "repeated criticism" of Dailey had "reduced the effectiveness of that office."

R. L. Krabach, president of the club, said it was a "move by at least a segment of the local party leadership to put responsibility to the community ahead of party politics."

The club, which has about 1,200 members, is separate from the county Republican executive and central committees.

Krabach cited several instances which he said supported the statement the "public has lost confidence" in the sheriff.

He said the latest was Dailey's arrest early Sunday of two American Township constables in the neighborhood of the Club 30, a gambling spot just west of Lima.

County Prosecutor Anthony J. Bowers raided the club Sunday night, without Dailey's knowledge, and arrested 13 persons. They pleaded guilty to a variety of gambling charges.

Marion Police Make Two Arrests

Police today reported two arrests.

Harold Andrew, 38, of 376 Park boulevard was arrested on Delaware avenue and charged with being drunk and disorderly. He pleaded guilty in Municipal Court today, and was fined $75 and costs. He was taken to Marion County jail when he could not pay his fine.

William Woodrow Keuchler, 35, of 696 Hocking street was arrested on Davids street at 8:45 p.m. yesterday and charged with reckless operation of his auto. He posted $25 bond for his appearance in Municipal Court tomorrow.

Radio and Television

By JOHN CROSBY

Mr. Murray Salutes Esquire Girls

Ken Murray is a squarefaced large-mouth, crew-cutted, square-rigged comedian who flourishes an enormous cigar and frequently wears a smile that stretches clear across a 14-inch screen. Everything about this refugee from California is generously proportioned and, consequently, it comes only as a mild surprise to hear he is to be extended to two and a half hours. This makes him the most extensive entertainer anywhere on evening television, over-reaching even Arthur Godfrey by a full hour.

John Crosby

There seems to be no question that he has the stamina to spread himself over this time allotment, having presided over a sort of continuous vaudeville show on the West Coast known as "Blackouts" for seven long years without visible wear and tear on his health. The whole thing then boils down to whether the rest of us have the stamina to endure Ken Murray for two and a half hours every week.

Well, he's an engaging low-pressure fellow who wears well. When he first started on CBS-TV, he was all over the place—trading badinage with other comedians, working strenuously in all the sketches and even drinking Budweiser with great zest during the commercial. Over the years he has become less obtrusive. That's the new or anti-Milton Berle trend. Stay out of the animal acts. You'll live longer.

THE CONTEMPORARY Ken Murray trades a few jokes, generally of a rather special wolfish nature, with his guests and leers at the pretty girls. There is quite a lot of leering going on in television, but Murray, with his vast countenance, has a leer that outreaches anyone else's and could in a pinch throw a shudder into a girl in the second balcony.

On last Saturday's effort, there were more girls to leer at than Mr. Murray has ever had around before. Virtually the whole show was given over to sounding the klaxon for "Esquire" magazine, especially "Esquire's" calendar girls. I expect everyone now knows what the "Esquire" calendar is and that each month is adorned by a long-legged lass in various attitudes of abandon. Well, they had all 12 of them there—some of them the originals, others reproductions of the originals—and each one simpered her way through a little poesy to the effect that she adored men, especially men who bought her diamonds.

"THIS," SAID A young lady who happened to be watching the same exhibit at the time, "is going to set women back 400 years."

It sounded like one of the most elaborate magazine tie-ins of all time. The magazine-television tie-in: you give a comedian a full page spread in color; he responds with wild praise over the air for your magazine. But it wasn't. At least, "Esquire" claims that Mr. Murray's enthusiasm for the magazine, especially its calendar girls, was entirely spontaneous and that the magazine's retort to this hour-long tribute would be only a small plug for Mr. Murray on the editorial page: "Nobody reads the editorial page," said the managing editor of that magazine glumly, "except my mother."

WHILE THE "Esquire" salute was not a tie-in, Mr. Murray is not above tie-ins here and there. During the commercial, Sherman Billingsley dropped by to scratch the back of Mr. Murray's sponsor, Budweiser, while Mr. Murray scratched the back of Mr. Billingsley's sponsor, Fatima—both of them puffing, sipping and scratching as if they had three arms. As commercials go, it wasn't bad, but I still prefer the Budweiser horses—massive, august animals who are easily the most dignified and impressive things ever to appear on my television set.

FILM SHOWING PLANNED

GREEN CAMP—"Choosing for Happiness" is the title of film to be shown at the Methodist church Saturday at 7:30 p. m. Strike

walkout has crippled the vast port of New York including piers in New Jersey, and also has closed down docking operations in Boston.

The port of Albany N Y. closed for two days by wildcat strikers, reopened yesterday after the men voted to return to work.

Union rebels struck over their demand for renegotiation of a recently approved wage contract with East Coast shippers The contract calls for $2.10 an hour, a 10-cent wage boost The rebels want a 25-cent hourly raise

Ryan Rejects Demand

The demand immediately was turned down by Ryan, lifetime head of the ILA, who pointed to the two-to-one ratification of the pact by 65,000 longshoremen working docks from Maine to Virginia.

Yesterday, the shipping and stevedoring companies flatly refused to reopen wage talks with the insurgent stevedores.

The employers group, the New York Shipping Association, told Ryan in a telegram that the strike was "unauthorized" and "in flagrant" violation of the renewed agreement accepted on . . . Oct. 11."

Patrol Lists Four Arrests

Four arrests yesterday were reported by the state highway patrol.

Roy Hedrick, 20, of near Edison was charged with speeding on Route 95 at 7.45 p.m He was taken to post bond at the Marion police station, where it was discovered that he had failed to register his car. The car is being held as bond for both charges until Oct. 27, when Hedrick will appear in Marion Municipal Court.

Sylvester Jones, 24 of Detroit, Mich., was arrested on a charge of excessive speed on Route 23 at 7:45 p.m. He pleaded guilty before Mayor L. E. Klingle of Waldo and was fined $25 and costs.

Mary Hurtt of near Edison was charged with driving without a driver's license on Route 95 at 3.45 p.m. She was cited to appear in Municipal Court today

Kendall Mansfield, 38 of near Edison was arrested at 2 p.m on Route 42 on a charge of driving without an operator's license He was cited to appear at 5 p.m today before Mayor R. R. Bennington of Mt. Gilead.

STRIKE HALTS WORK

OAK RIDGE, Tenn., Oct. 26—(AP)—Labor disputes virtually halted work on three vital atomic plant construction projects today. An Atomic Energy Commission spokesman said more than 2,500 A.F.L. workers failed to report for work. The mass walkout apparently was caused by the posting of pickets by the Plumbers Union, which only yesterday had ended a two-day strike.

LEGAL NOTICE OF SALE OF BONDS
Sealed proposals will be received at the Office of the Auditor of the City of Marion Ohio until 12.00 o'clock noon (EST) Monday, November 5 1951 for the purchase of bonds of said City in the aggregate sum of Forty-two Thousand Five Hundred Dollars ($42,500.00), dated the 1st day of August 1951.
Said bonds will be forty-two (42) in number and numbered from one (1) to forty-two (42) both inclusive. Each of said bonds will be of the denomination of $1,000.00 with the exception of Bond No 1 which will be of the denomination of $1,500.00 and will draw interest at the rate of 3½% per annum payable semi-annually on the 1st day of April and October of each year upon presentation and surrender of the interest coupons to be attached to said bonds.
Anyone desiring to do so may present a bid or bids for said bonds based on their bearing a different rate of interest than that hereinspecified provided that where a fractional interest rate is bid such fraction shall be one-fourth of one per cent or multiples thereof.
Said bonds shall be due and payable as follows:
Nos 1 to 9 inclusive on the 1st day of October 1953
Nos 10 to 18 inclusive on the 1st day of October, 1954
Nos 19 to 26 inclusive on the 1st day of October, 1955
Nos 27 to 34 inclusive on the 1st day of October, 1956
Nos 35 to 42 inclusive on the 1st day of October, 1957.
Said bonds are issued for the purpose of raising money in anticipation of the collection of special assessments for the construction of sanitary and storm water sewers in certain city streets and under authority of the laws of Ohio and under and in accordance with Ordinance No 5478 of said City as amended on the 8th day of October, 1951 and are payable from special assessments and unlimited taxes at the office of the City Treasurer.
Said bonds will be sold to the highest bidder for not less than the face value thereof and accrued interest.
All bids must state the number of bonds bid for and the gross amount of bid and accrued interest to date of delivery, all bids to be accompanied with a bond or certified check payable to the City of Marion, Ohio for $500.00 upon condition that if the bid is accepted the bidder will receive and pay for such bonds as may be issued as above set forth, within a reasonable time after award, said bond to be forfeited or said check to be retained by the City if said condition is not fulfilled.
Approving opinion of Squire Sanders & Dempsey, Counsellors at Law Cleveland, Ohio and the printed bonds will be furnished and paid for by the City of Marion, Ohio.
Bids will be opened and tabulated at the time and place aforesaid, award to be confirmed at a meeting of Council at 7.30 o'clock P. M. on said date.
Place of delivery City Auditor's Office, Marion Ohio.
Bids should be sealed and endorsed "Bids for State Street and Vicinity sewer bonds"

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

My barber says we are needlessly alarmed over the economic effect of the tax boost which arrives on Nov. 1. He read in the papers that one man in Washington will leave for Key West on Nov. 8 just as though nothing had happened.

He said, "You know a Florida vacation can cost a little money and it is plain that this citizen is not worried about where OUR next buck is coming from."

But as we understand the new boost it's just for the duration of the emergency and under no circumstances will it be extended beyond the end of time.

And I still say Henry Wallace hit it on the nose with his theory that is "The Century of the Common Man" . . . one more tax belt and we will be taking in each other's laundry.

But when we get all levelled off who is going to bail out England that got all levelled off two years ago.
